Events are a major part of high school. They are things that happen, which make people want to come to school. Homecoming is one of the biggest events that takes place in our high school. It involves a lot of competition such as decorating the halls, decorating class sheets, powder-puff football between the juniors and seniors, tug-of-war between the freshmen and sophomores, the race for homecoming king and queen, and, of course, the big game on Friday night. This year we had the opportunity to share homecoming with students from Germany.

This past year our school participated in a foreign exchange program between Elwood and a school in Velten, Germany. Everyone had a wonderful time participating in the German American Partnership Program, and we are all looking forward to taking a part in it again next year. Being involved in school events creates many memories to be remembered.

1. Grandpa Caleb Dunnichay
2. German exchange students Laura and Annabelle
3. Junior Powder-Puff Cheerleaders; Daniel Schumann, Brian Hoover, William Cole, Joshua Searcy, Michael Gonzales, Aaron Sylvester, and Cody Lewellen
4. Steven and Logan Etchison cooking German food
5. Grandpas, Derek Worsley, Joshua Rider, and Eric Schwartz

Senior Ashley Box is assisting customers on her headset at Hardees.

A tired, but cheerful Mallory Mengelt is ringing up a customer's order before her work shift is over at Taylor's Dairy.

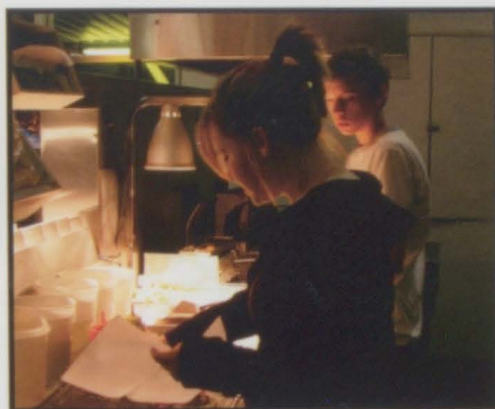

Junior Nathaniel Bourff is sorting books to have ready for the children to come to the Elwood Public Library.

Jobs

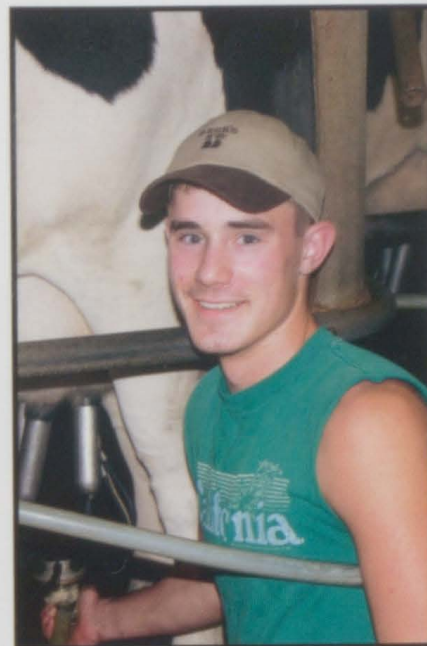

Many students at Elwood High School show responsibility by having a job. Either earning money for a car, cell phone payments, saving up for that "dream car," having money for Spring Break, or just having a little extra cash on the side. Many people work in different places all over town and others work in surrounding towns. Some work in very caotic places where people are constantly on the go and some work in places where silence is necessary. Some students have had many jobs, some have stuck with one. Some like where they work and some want to quit, but most of all everyone wants the best paycheck that they can make and they all work very hard to get it.

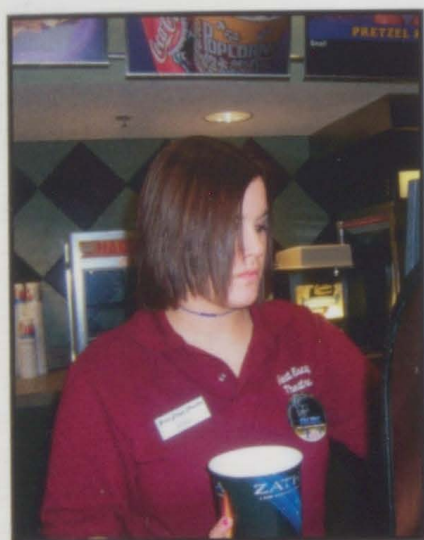

Junior Sarah Pine is getting ready to prepare an order at Mr. Happy Burger.

Junior Jeremy Doom has lots of fun at his job at Schaffer's farm milking cows on an early Saturday morning.

Sophomore Jessica Schlink is busy filling up drinks at Great Escapes Theatre in Noblesville on the opening day of Harry Potter and the Goblet of Fire.

Juniors Adrienne Calloway and Natasha Orbik take time to pose while making everyone's favorite Dairy Queen dessert, a blizzard, on a hectic day.

Junior Meredith Boyland feeds a check through the cash register at Harvest Market on a busy grocery shopping day.

Veronica
Conner

HOMECOMING

Homecoming week started off on Sunday with hall decorating. The seniors won the hall decorating contest with the theme "Bettin' on a Victory." Dress-up days started on Monday with Decades Day, followed by Grandma and Grandpa Day, Cowboy and Indian Day, Barbie and G.I. Joe apparel, and ended Friday with Red and Blue/Shades/Hat Day. The Powder-puff game took place on Monday night. The juniors took the victory over the seniors 28-26. The sophomores tugged their way to a victory over the freshman during half-time of the powder puff game. Everyone who participated in the homecoming events had a great time.

Fashionably displaying her spirit at school, junior Misty Holtsclaw dresses up on Barbie and G.I. Joe Day. Misty, along with others, showed their school spirit.

Powder puff cheerleaders, Derek Worsely and John Pine playfully fight during the powder puff game.

Stylishly modeling, senior Larry Nutt looks sharp for Red and Blue day. "Well I've been working on my abs so I figured I'd show them off since they were looking so good." - Larry Nutt

Freshman Heather Emerick and Sophomore Kacey Nance aggressively prepare themselves to battle in a fierce match of tug-of-war during half-time of the powder puff game. "During the time of tug-of-war I was thinking...Gosh I can't wait to see them fall!" - Kacey Nance. "I was thinking, pull harder! We need to beat these sophomores!" - Heather Emerick

The junior's defense forcefully tries to hold the senior's offense. The seniors scored four touchdowns.

Ashley Box was named 2005 Homecoming Queen. She was escorted by her cousin Michael Northcutt and her brother Matthew Box.

During the Homecoming game, the Panther defense stops the Bruins offense to gain the ball back to continue their sweep to a Panther victory.

Seniors Matthew Tyner and Kristin Stiner were chosen as the 2005 Parade Marshals. They smile for the camera while excitedly waiting for the parade to begin.

Travis Gettinger was crowned 2005 Homecoming King at half-time of the powder-puff game. He was escorted onto the field by his mother, Maxina Gettinger.

Juniors Samantha Startcher, Elizabeth Melton, Michelle Albers, Sarah Pine, and Melissa Helm enjoy themselves while riding in a dune buggy in the 2005 Homecoming Parade.

During the days of September 26 through September 30 many Homecoming activities occurred. On Monday the king and queen candidates were announced. The king candidates were as follows: Derek Worsley, Travis Gettinger, Thomas Grondin, Adam Startcher, and Austin O'Donnell. The queen candidates were: Ashley Box, Janette Cole, Emily Diko, Elizabeth Finan, Tasha Knick, and Kyleigh Jones. The entire student body voted, and Travis Gettinger and Ashley Box won Homecoming Royalty. That Friday there was a pep rally to get the team and school pumped for the game. Before the game there was a parade. It is Elwood tradition for the seniors to ride the fire truck. In the picture below the seniors are excited to ride the firetruck. Pictured below are seniors: Melissa Cochran, Shiann Allen, Traci Hobbs, April Jeske, Devin York, Kylie Groover, Danielle Shope, Hayley Condon, and Darci Leisure. When the parade finished fans rushed to the game to watch the Panthers defeat the Bruins 49-7.

After a long day of swimming and bike riding sophomores Kaysha Rittenhouse, Jamie Runyan, and freshman Chloe Shallenburger stopped and lured sophomore Aaron Diko into taking a picture with them.

After a long year at school students can't wait for their summer vacation. Despite the very hot weather everyone still had as much fun as they could. With little responsibilities most students spent their summer nights hanging out at Taco Bell, Callaway Park, driving the "L", and numerous other activities to fill their summer days. The summer was filled with laughter and tons of memories. Students spent time with their friends and spent time trying to get out of their houses. The worst thing students had to worry about was being at work and making curfew. This summer was one to remember.

Sophomores Kelsey Fuller, Kayla Rider, Laura Bohlander and Junior Bethany Stover stylishly model in their friend's clothes during a rainy summer day.

Junior cheerleaders Samantha Starcher, Melissa Helm, and Meredith Boyland nervously get ready to leave for their first competition at Clinton County on July 14.

Panther Band seniors Matther Tyner, Megan Hoel, Elizabeth Sorg, Stephen Udem, and Mathew Kennedy gather around at Band Camp in July for one last picture before they have to leave.

During the summer, juniors Rebecca Short and Sarah Pine hilariously pretend to be snipers at Tyler Ozenbaugh's house. Rebecca and Sarah are preparing for their next mission by using a paintball gun and walkie talkie.

Sven Wellnev, Annabelle Rieb, Anika Salinger, Linda Holzerland and Christian Bartz take a relaxing break from their walk through Indianapolis on September 23. The German students went on many field trips including; Beef and Boards Theater, Circle Center Mall, Kings Island, and Ball State University.

German Bridging the G.A.P.P. Students

The German exchange students arrived in Indianapolis, Indiana on September 14. The students traveled by bus to Elwood to greet their host families. Host families included; Rebecca Whisler, Nyoka Walsh, Julie Edmonson, Emily Diko, Sarah Pine, Lynzy Stover, Danielle Shope, Austin O'Donnell, Aaron Durm, Leslie Cole, Cameron Holman, Kristin Stiner, Kalie Creamer, Elizabeth Melton, Vicki Blair, John and Beth Moser family, and Scott and Beth Prusinki family. The exchange students had a great time participating in the homecoming events. They also visited many museums and theater plays. Some of the host families vacationed in Chicago and St. Louis. The German students departed on October 13. The host families and German students left with lasting memories.

1. German student, Caroline, displays her humorous side at a volleyball game by wrapping fifty-fifty tickets around her head.

2. Taking a relaxing break, Christian and his host, Cameron Holman sit in the sun after Cameron ran his cross country meet in Tipton.

3. Kristin Stiner and her exchange student, Laura, take their last photo at the banquet held in the library the night before the Germans left to go back home.

4. Sophie, Aalyiah, and Romey joyously greet each other with a kiss on the cheek during lunch in the gymnasium.

Carolin Saal, Julie Sander, Laura Koenig, and Annabelle Kieb patiently wait in line to receive their food during Rhonda Smuck's fifth hour Foods and Nutrition Class. The German students cooked German meatballs and other food for the Elwood students.

Host Emily Diko and her German student, Josi, sit in the senior hall before first hour. Emily and Josi made many fun memories together during her stay in Elwood.

During second period study hall sophomore Bobby Elder and senior Michael Cooper keep an eye on Elwood's future firefighters. Sophomore Ethan Arehart and juniors Cory Deckard and Cody Martin are hard at work extinguishing a fake fire.

Driven

1. Sophomores Kayla Juday and Jessica Shlink
2. Seniors Cody Wilkerson and Lucas Keesling
3. Juniors Samantha Starcher and Rebecca Whistler
4. Freshmen Cody VanBuskirk and Eric Runyan
5. Lunch Ladies Cynthia Culp and Martha Bennett

Everyday people are together. Everyday people have fun and just hang out. It all starts in high school--freshman year. Freshman year starts out and there is the fear of being bullied by all of the upperclassmen, but no one does. Sophomore year things are a little better, but classes are harder and teachers insist on homework being done. Then in a blink it is year number eleven and things get much better. It comes with more freedom and consists of just being around friends. Then suddenly it's the final year! The realization hits of not having done everything required to get ready for college or the fatigue sets in of doing so much and being tired of all of the planning. When seniors are not trying to decide what to do for the future, they are just having a ball! The faculty is also having a good time helping students with plans for the future. All the more reason to thank teachers for doing all they do.

Likely To...

The seniors have known each other the longest out of all the students in the school. They have learned each other's characteristics over the years and would most likely not even have to look at this page to know who was voted the most likely to do or achieve something. The senior class has grown closer in the twelve, thirteen, or even fourteen years they have been together. The Most Likely To's are a tradition, and all the seniors look forward to it whether they admit it or not!

What's a secret hobby you participate in that not many people know about?

"I swing dance. I started because a girl asked me to go swing dancing, and I had no idea how. I've been swing dancing, now for about five months, and Mr. Nathan Criswell gives me lessons. I go swing dancing at Fountain Square in Indianapolis. I love the music, and it gives you a great workout." - Nathan Bourff

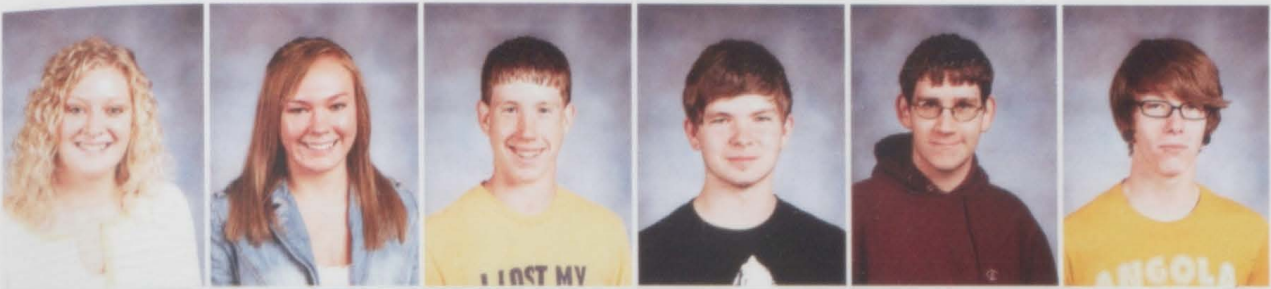

"I started writing a book a couple years ago. It's about a plane crash survival test with a twist of fantasy. Ciera Loepke helps edit my book. Writing is a very personal thing. The main character usually represents the author or what the author wants to be." - Megan Boyer

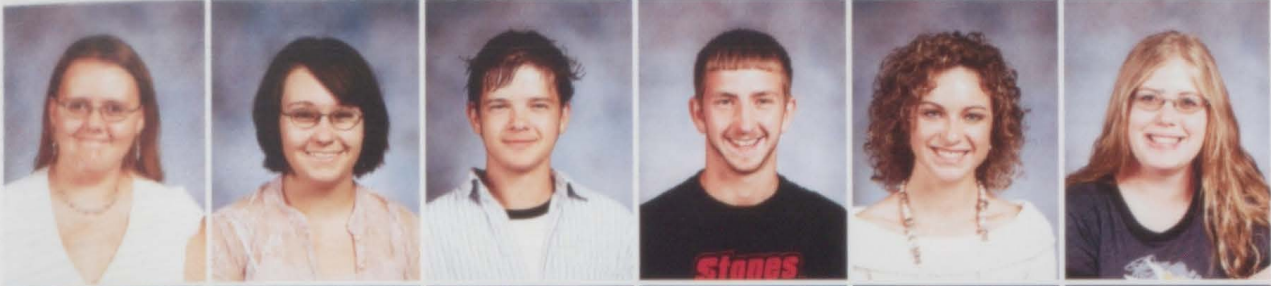

"I collect comic books. I started collecting three or four years ago when my uncle, who also collects comic books, said I should start collecting them too. My favorite comic book is X-men. I have about fifty or more comic books collected so far. I collect them because some of them are worth money."

Autographs

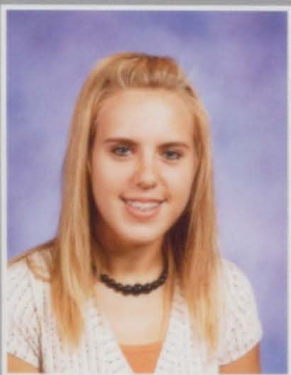

Class of 2009

How do you like being a freshman? Explain.

"I like being a freshman very well. I really like block scheduling and the teachers here are better than those in Middle School."

-Brian Simmons

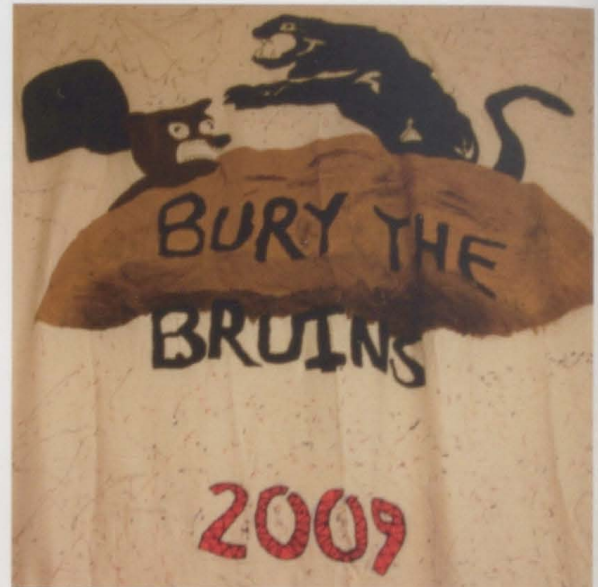

"Being a freshman is alright. High School is a lot more fun than Middle School"

-Julie Edmonson

BEING A FRESHMAN...

Wondering where classes are, what teachers are like, if High School has more freedom, if pranks will be played, and if surviving the year is possible are all things freshmen worry about coming into High School. Being a freshman is not easy at first. Classes are harder, and there is much more drama. As the year goes by, attending events is essential, things become easier, and you are ready to move on. Relationships take place, friendships grow stronger, and you begin to take class seriously. It's all just part of freshman year.

by memories

Although a majority of high school is studying, testing, and studying more, the most memorable events that occur during high school have nothing to do with schoolwork. Students begin to think about Spring Break as soon as they set foot in a classroom in the fall. They hope they will enjoy a relaxing week on the beach or a fun week on the slopes skiing. Maybe a week at home would be okay, too. As long as there is no homework, the students are happy! When returning from Spring Break, prom is right around the corner. What is the right dress for me? Does this tux look good or not? The students experience an enchanting night of dancing and enjoying each other's company. Being surrounded by close friends is always exciting, especially when you are all dressed up and looking great! After prom is a fun ending to a fairy-tale evening. Prom night soon passes and before we know it graduation is here. The relationships the upperclassmen have made will be tested with the move from high school to college, and the relationships among underclassman will grow stronger each year.

1. Ryan Landrum and Adam Starcher
2. Thomas Abner, Madison Hovious, and Abby Jesse
3. Carolyn Tillery, Casey Jackson, and Adrienne Calloway
4. Kristin Stiner, Hayley Condon, and Tasha Knick
5. Lynzy Stover and Melissa Helm

Sophomore Troy Wors along with senior pals Ad Starcher, Derek Wors, Joshua Rider, Zach Nichols, and Thomas Cron prove who were the toughest guys in Ft Myers, Florida on the spring break. This was the boys' last spring break together so they made sure to make it one to remember.

Best buds Darci Leisure and Katie Goens, full of excitement, get ready to ride the waves of Cancun, Mexico on their fun-filled senior spring break. "My favorite memory of jet skiing was when Darci's mom, Lynn Hare, made a sharp turn and I almost fell off. The whole time I had salt water in my eyes," said Kaitlin Goens.

Spring Break

During the school year, spring break is what students look forward to the most. When they enter the month of March, the countdown begins. It does not really matter if one is going somewhere warm, somewhere cold, or just staying home. All that matters is that everyone gets out of school for a whole week and are free to do whatever we want! Spring Break is a time to relax and to think about anything other than school. It is a much needed break, and each student enjoys it while it lasts!

Sophomores Jamie Runyan and Zachary Taylor play on the beach in Gulf Shores, Alabama before watching the sunset on their last night. "My most memorable moment on spring break was when we went on a dolphin cruise where we watched wild dolphins jump through the waves. It was magical!" shared Jamie Runyan.

Junior Erika Neese and her stepfather Grant Criner prepare to parasail over the Atlantic Ocean in Daytona Beach, Florida on the Thursday of spring break. Erika commented that her favorite memory about parasailing was "being so high in the air for such a long time."

Couple Tyler Ozenbaugh and Sarah Jackman pose for a picture in the refreshing hotel pool in beautiful Fort Myers, Florida. "My favorite memory of spring break was being there with all of my best friends and my wonderful girlfriend, Sarah!" said Tyler Ozenbaugh.

Friends Lynzy Stover, Kelsey Whitson, and Lindsay Collins overlook the beach from their hotel in Panama City, Florida. The girls made many memories and met new people during their spring break.

Best friends Melissa Helm, Sarah Pine, Abbey Abner, Rebecca Short, and Elizabeth Melton take time from playing in the ocean for a quick enapshot in Siesta Key, Florida over Spring Break. The girls' day consisted of laying out on the beach and dressing up to go out at night.

On their last spring break together, Seniors Whitney Sprague, Nataasha Knick, Leslie Cole, Casey Miller, and Hayley Condon get ready to layout on the beautiful Daytona Beach in Florida. "My favorite memory from spring break was when we almost got kicked out of our hotel, Hawaiian Inn," stated Casey Miller.

Prom

Prom this year was held at the old Lessons Building. The theme was Midnight in Paris. Everyone was dressed in colors varying from the brightest pink to the simple black and white. Lengths also varied from long, flowing dresses to the new style of short dresses. The King nominees were: Dakin Beach, Ryan Landrum, Zachary Nichols, Larry Nutt, and Pedro San Juan. The Queen nominees were: Kylie Groover, Casey Miller, Whitney Sprague, Kristin Stiner, and Amiee Wright. Voted for Prom King and Queen were Larry Nutt and Aimee Wright.

Rebecca Short, Derek Worsley, Alexandra Richwine, Caleb Dunnichay, Sarah Pine, and David Bodia take pictures at Caleb's house before attending the 2006 prom.

1. Senior Larry Nutt prepares to karate chop sophomore Kelsey Whitson during their sumo wrestling match.

2. Sophomore Kelsey Fuller and senior Adam Starcher get together for a lasting memory of Adam's last after prom.

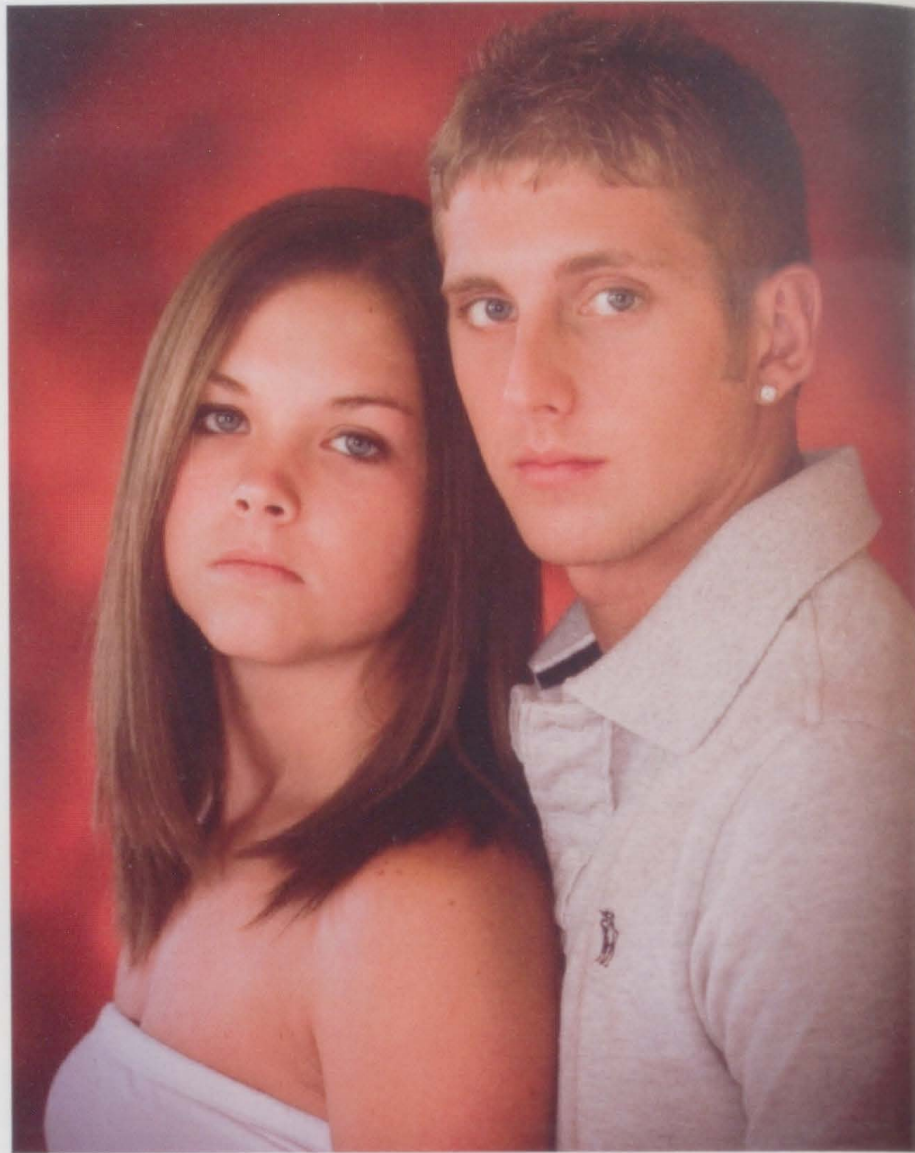

3. Couple Will Jesse and Lynzy Stover show off their matching shirts and shorts before playing the Twister game.

4. Junior Becky Short enjoys riding The Bull and entertains her fellow classmates.

5. Best friends Devin York and Casey Miller race each other on the bungee run.

6. Juniors Jeremy Doom and Michelle Albers take a break from playing the games to snap a picture at their first after prom together.

Jessica Wright and John Saxton have been together since September 28, 2002. Jessica and John's song is "Amazed" by Lonestar. "Our first date was the eighth grade dance. I choked on a cookie while kissing him for the first time." - Jessica Wright

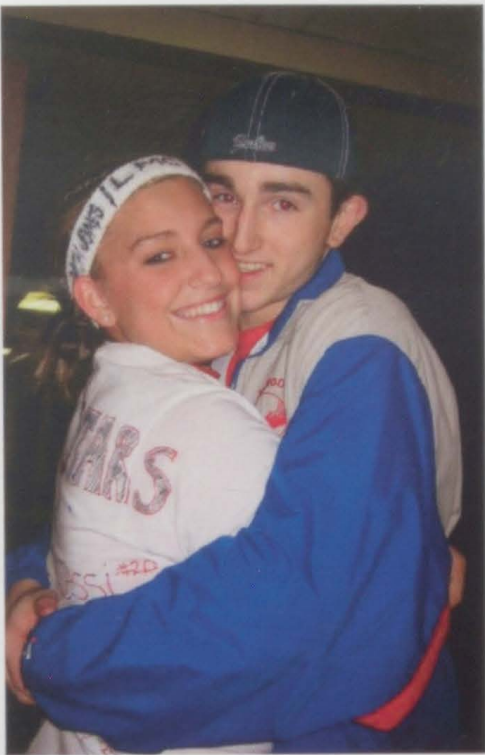

Darci Leisure and Brandon Badger have been together for one year. Darci and Brandon's song is "Lovers and Friends" by Lil John. "My most memorable moment with Brandon was late one night; my parents woke up while he was still at my house. So to be quiet, we rolled his car down my lane." - Darci Leisure

Relationships

Young Love and Best Friends

High school can begin many new relationships and continue old relationships. During high school, friendships can expand to closer friendships or even relationships. People can have different associations including: friend and friend, boyfriend and girlfriend, teacher and student, coach and athlete, and even parent and child. These relationships bring many memories during high school.

Love birds, Meredith Boyland and Aaron Klein quickly hug before the bell rings during school. "Meri and I have been together for only eight months, but it's been the most exciting eight months of my life." - Aaron Klein

Good friends, Sarah Hodson and Sarah Jackman get fashionably dressed up to go out to eat at Texas Roadhouse. Sarah Hodson and Sarah Jackman have been friends for a long time, and they can trust each other with anything.

Kelsey Whitson and Larry Nutt have been together since October 7. Kelsey says Larry's best quality is his personality. "When I was sick, Larry came over and brought me hot tea." - Kelsey Whitson. "I just really like to be in Kelsey's presence. The thing I can't stand is when she waits until I drive past Ricker's, then says she wants a pop, but I love her anyways." - Larry Nutt.

Jeffrey Jones and Adrienne Horning capture the memory while celebrating Adrienne's sixteenth birthday. Jeffrey and Adrienne have been together for over a year.

Hanging out with friends at Washington School, Darci Moody and Quincy Kendall found a stray cat walking across the street. "We've only been best friends for four years, but I'd be completely lost without Quincy. This is what true best friends are all about!" - Darci Moody

Trying to keep each other warm, senior Shiann Allen and her boyfriend, Michael Cottrell prepare themselves to visit a haunted house over Fall Break. Shiann and Michael have been together on and off for over a year.

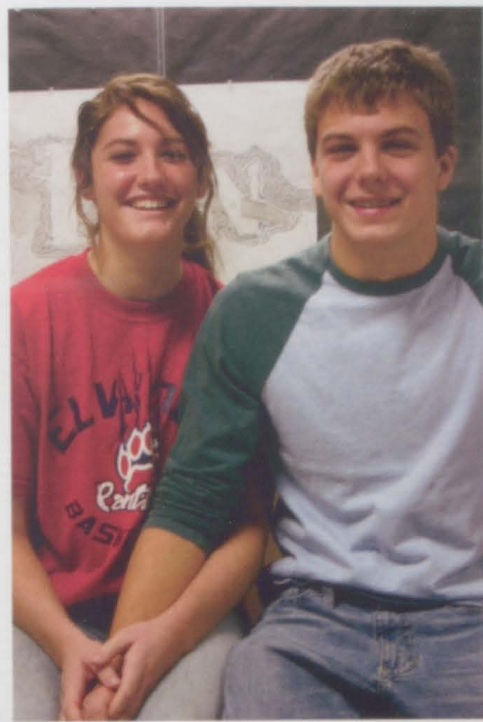

Couple, Derek Worsley and Rebecca Short excitedly show their love for one another and capture it on camera. Derek's favorite past time with Rebecca is all the silly things they do, like wrestling. "I'm never nervous around Becky, I can really be myself. I love her." - Derek Worsley

Relationships

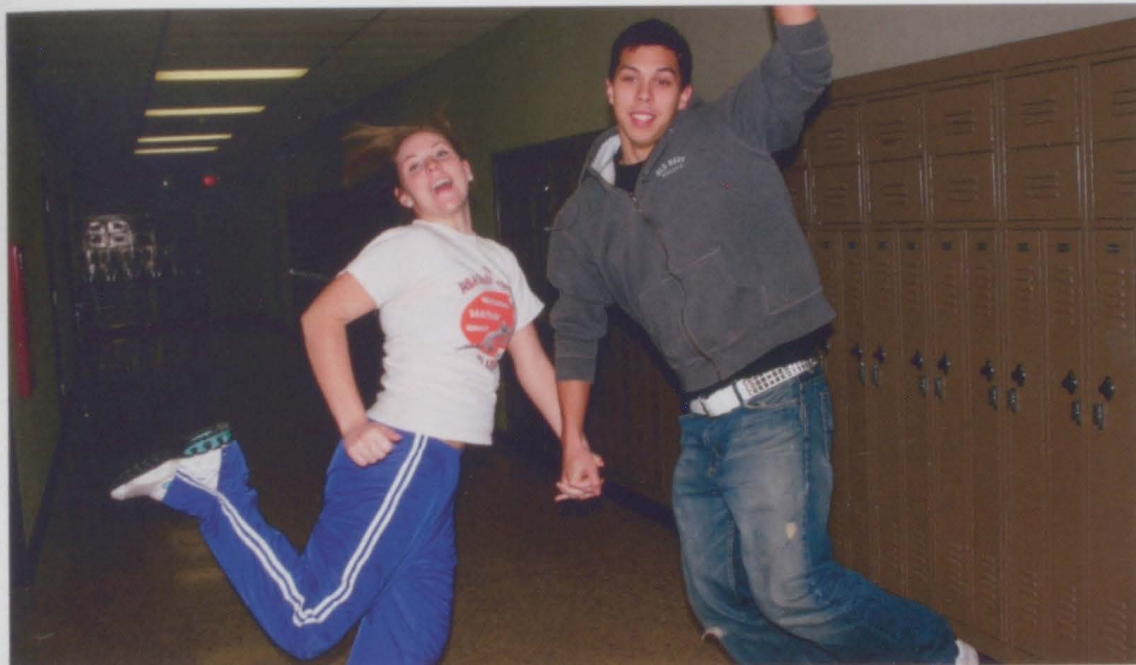

Who can you turn to when your life is all a mess...a friend. Who can you turn to when there's high school drama...a friend. Who can you turn to when your heart has been broken...a friend. Who can you turn to when you've had a bad day and you need a good laugh...a friend. Who can you turn to when you need to talk and it's four in the morning...a friend. Who can promise you that everything's going to be okay, because they'll make sure of it...a friend. Who's the one who will sing the songs that's in your heart, when you forget the words...a friend. Who will be there when you cry...a friend. Who will be there when you laugh...a friend. When you don't think you can make it through the drama, the tears, and the broken hearts...push forward because one day a friend will need you.

- Kayla Rider

Samantha Starcher and Tyler Caldwell patiently sit together before the bell for first period rings. Samantha and Tyler have been together since October 13, 2004. Samantha says Tyler's best quality is his fake tooth.

Being beautiful for the camera, Kayla Rider, Kelsey Fuller, and Laura Bohlander snap a quick picture while sitting down to eat at Steak-n-Shake for Kelsey's sixteenth birthday. Kayla, Kelsey, and Laura have been best friends since middle school.

Jumping for joy, Lynzy Stover and William Jesse humorously show that relationships have a funny side as well. Lynzy and William have been together for twenty-two months. "On prom night last year, he took me on a carriage ride and gave me a ring as we were going around the circle."
- Lynzy Stover

Hanging out together, sisters Jessica Williams and Veronica Conner spend some quality time together. Jessica and Veronica can tell each other anything.

During the fall, senior Amye Garrison and her boyfriend, Jeffrey Cottrell pause during a walk in the park to take a picture. For two years, Jeffrey gave Amye a rose on each monthly anniversary.

Graduation 2006

making memories to last a lifetime

This year, the graduation ceremony took place on June 4, 2006, at 2:00 pm in the John W. Ward Gymnasium. Speakers included Bailey Tipton and Aimee Wright, for their speech titled "Changes"; "The Attitude of Life" delivered by Caleb Dunnichay; "The Complex Infrastructure Known as the Senior," spoken by Matthew Kennedy; and "Simon Says," given by class president Nyoka Walsh. The class song was "In My Life" by the Beatles, which was sung and played by Krista Hooser and Matthew Tyner. Music was played by the Panther Band and included a song by the Crimson Suite/Show Choir and the Senior Concert Choir Members, both under the direction of Paula Simmons.

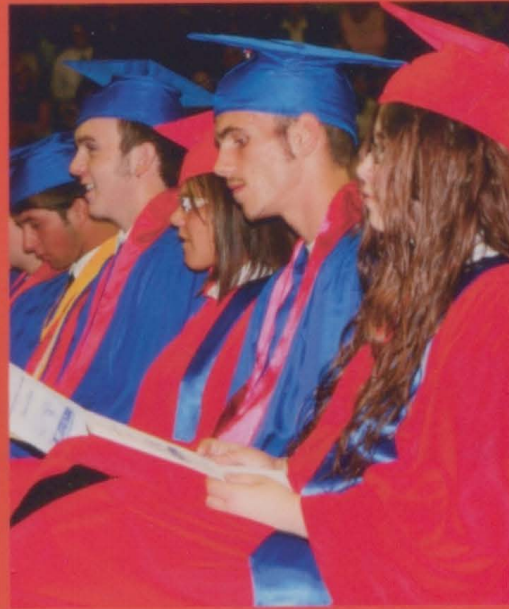

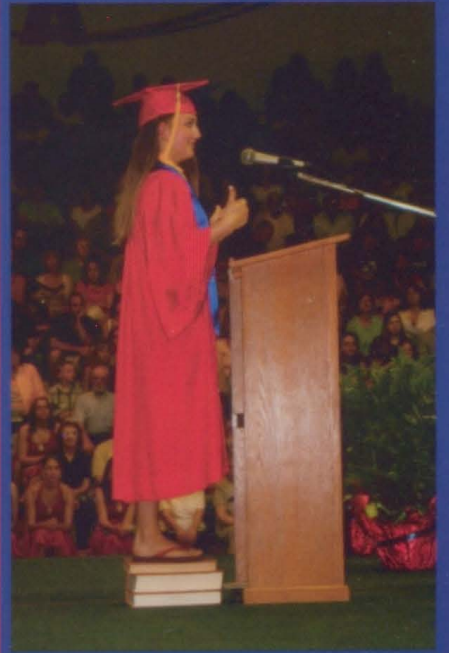

"I will not follow where the path may lead, but I will go where there is no path and leave a trail."
- Muriel Strode

Michael Cooper, Kimberley Coto, and George Dauenhauer give applaud Rocco Fuchetto as he announces that all seniors have met state and local requirements.

Melissa Tarter grins big as she walks off of the stage after receiving her diploma.

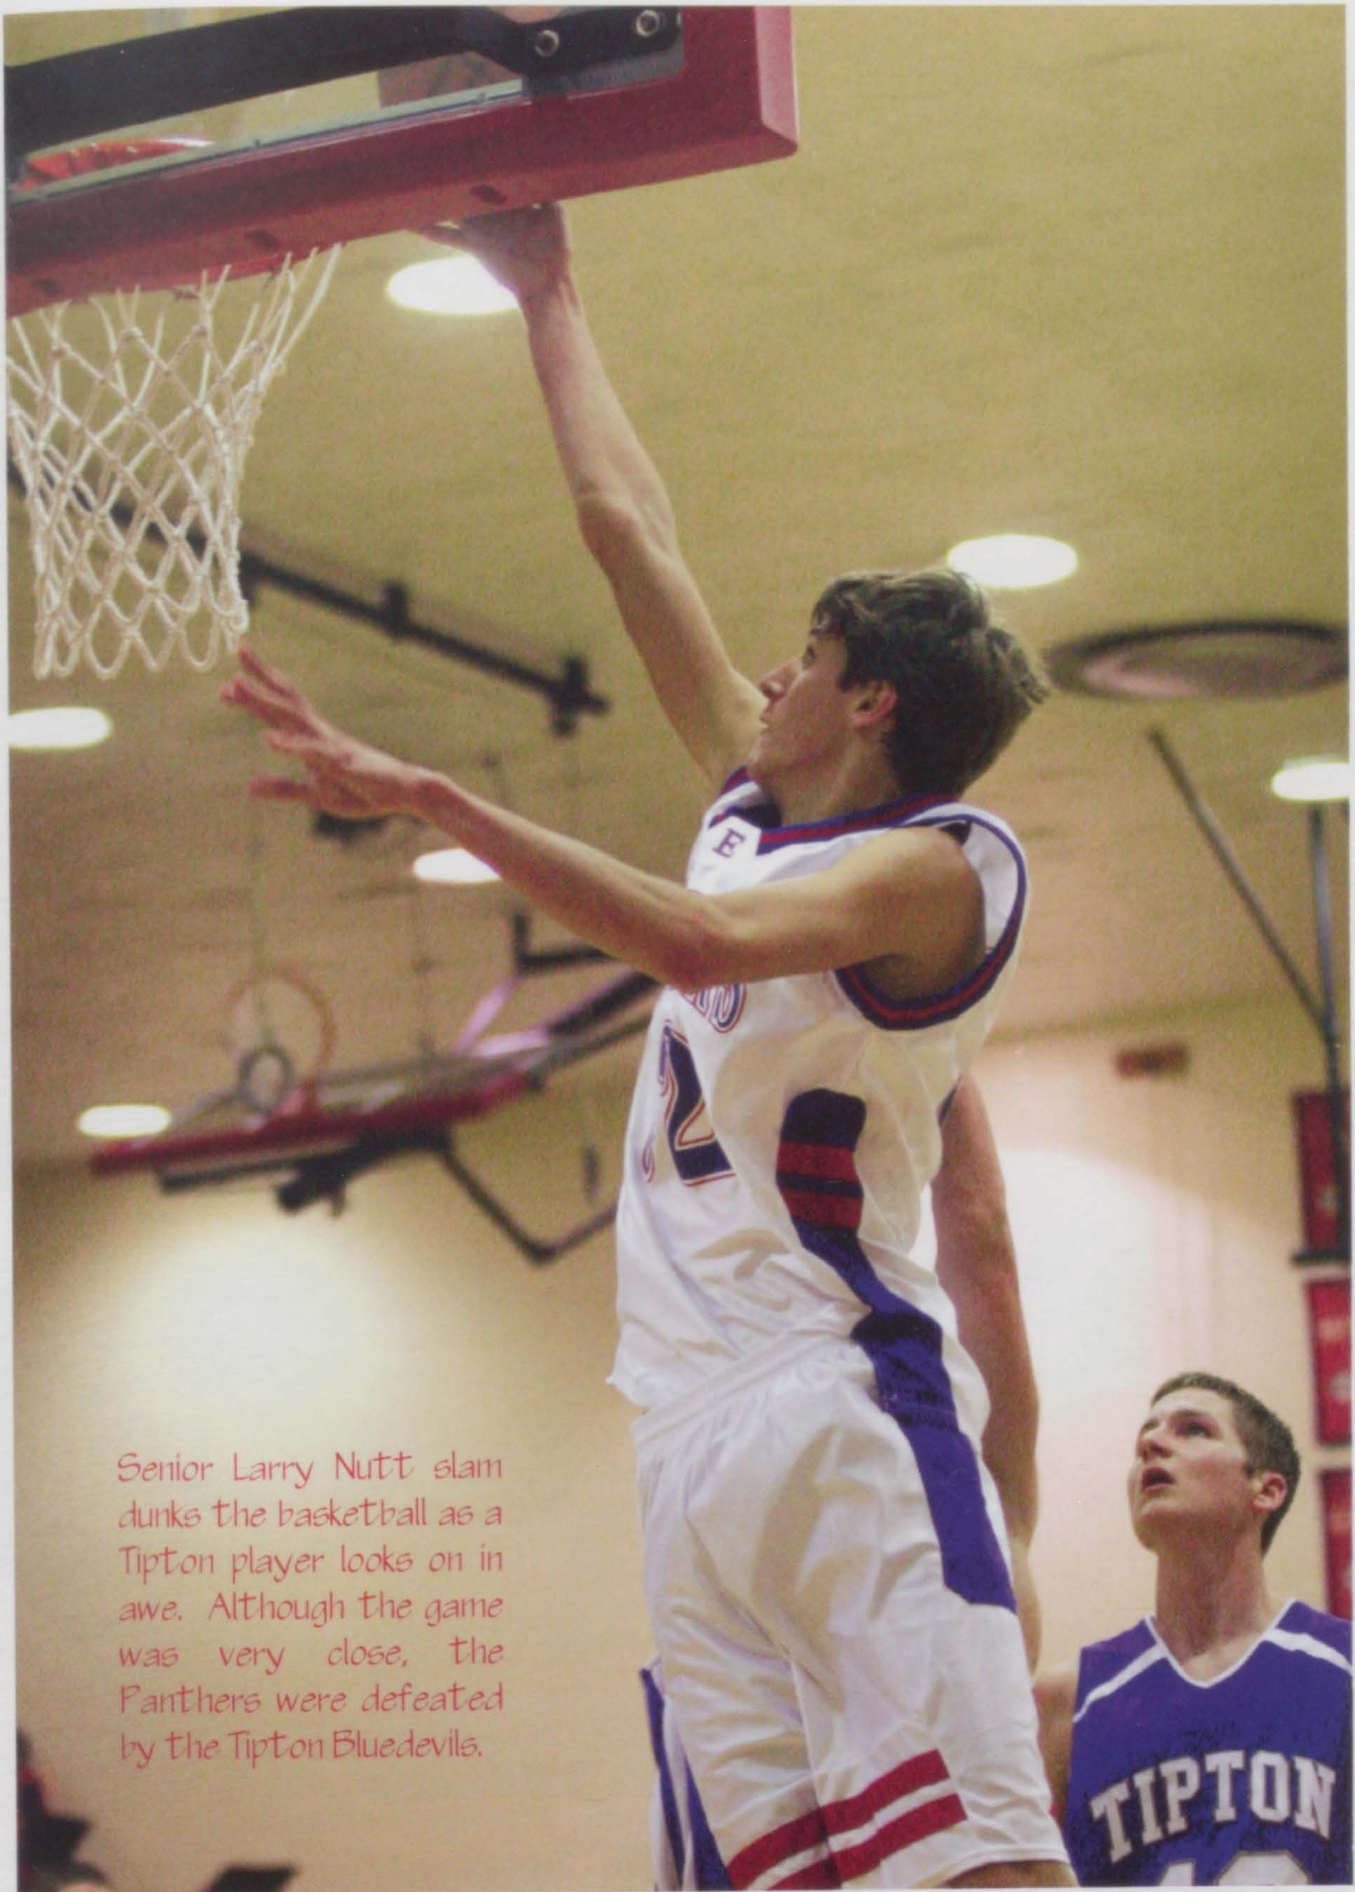

Driven to succeed

1. Austin O'Donnell - Boys' Tennis
2. Clark Moser - Swimming
3. Derek Worsley - Football
4. Samantha Starcher - Girls' Basketball
5. Shalynn Wright - Volleyball

Elwood is involved in sports throughout the entire year. During the fall there is football, volleyball, boys' tennis, and cross country. Winter sports include boys and girls' basketball, wrestling, swimming and diving, and bowling. Ending the year in spring is baseball, softball, golf, track, and girls' tennis. Cheerleaders take part in fall and winter sports cheering for football and basketball. Team members form lasting bonds that last through high school and sometimes the rest of their lives. All athletes are driven to perform well and achieve success. Caleb Dunnichay has achieved his goals while diving to success and receiving a scholarship to Auburn University in Alabama. Kyleigh Jones has also worked extremely hard and has received a full-ride scholarship to Ball State University. She plans to play basketball and softball while attending Ball State. Many other senior athletes have been scouted and are deciding where they would like to attend.

Senior Larry Nutt slam dunks the basketball as a Tipton player looks on in awe. Although the game was very close, the Panthers were defeated by the Tipton Bluedevils.

Junior Clark Moser strongly keeps moving on as he tries to get his best time of the season during the away meet against Eastbrook.

Samantha Starcher, a junior, quickly runs the final steps of the race against Alexandria and Blackford at Elwood to try and grasp a victory.

This year's Elwood Cross Country team had some great achievements. The boys and girls teams both worked very hard and accomplished many goals they had set for themselves and for the team throughout the season.

The girls had a full team this year and made the most of it. Seniors Nyoka Walsh and Krista Hoose with juniors Samantha Starcher and Kailee Cooper helped in leading the way to many top finishes and wins for the girls.

The boys team also did very well this year. Seniors Cameron Holman and Larry Nutt, along with junior Clark Moser, led the way for the boy's team.

This year's most valuable runners were Clark Moser and Samantha Starcher. The winners of the most improved runner awards were Jeffrey Noland and Kirsten Hibst.

Near the end of a close race against Eastbrook on August 18th, junior John Alexander hurriedly tries to catch up to the Eastbrook runners to try and get a good time. The away meet was won by our girls.

Junior Erika Neese strongly keeps pushing during the Blackford Invitational to attempt and get her best time of the season. The meet was held on September 11th at Blackford.

Football

1. The defensive line prepares to make a huge play to stop the opposing team's offense. 2. Senior Dakin Beach runs with the ball to try and gain yards for his team to get closer to a touchdown. 3. Senior William Jesse tackles a Blackford player as he is trying to score a touchdown. 4. The team listens to Coach Marty Wells after a huge victory.

1. Freshman Jacob Dunnichay prepares to make a defensive play against Blackford. 2. Senior Tyson Loy points towards the team's endzone after a huge play made by the defense.

"Wake Up the Echos"

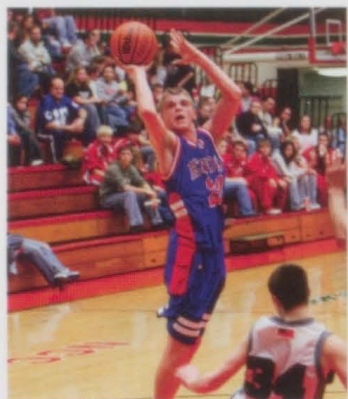

An old coach returning brings with it a new season. Marty Wells, a former assistant coach, is now Elwood's head coach. Coach Wells brings new things and new records. The teams motto this season was "Wake Up the Echos." Coach Wells said that there will be a different motto every season. New and exciting things happened this season such as, Midnight Madness, tailgating, motivational speeches, and a 5-5 record. This was exciting for the Panthers because in the past three seasons the Panther Football team had only won five games combined. The seniors that led the team this year were: Jacob Amos, Nathaniel Baker, Dakin Beach, Brandon Badger, Zachariah Frasure, William Jesse, Christopher Landrum, Tyson Loy, Adam Startcher, Curtis Welborn, and Derek Worsley. This team is still young with many new freshman and returning sophomores and juniors. The future for the Elwood Panther football team looks bright.

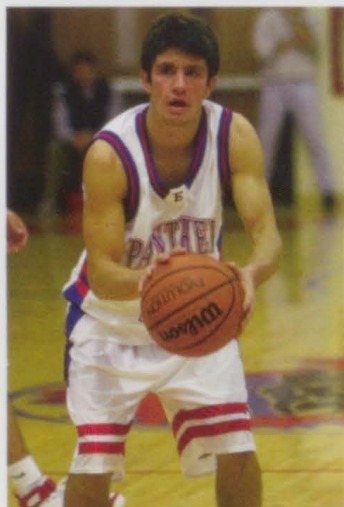

1. Seniors Adam Startcher, Derek Worsley, Dakin Beach, and William Jesse walk toward the coin toss at the start of the game to see who would receive the ball first.
2. Senior Brandon Badger helps his teammates position themselves on the field as they begin to start a new play.

Senior Adam Starcher prepares himself for a free throw shot against the Madison Grant Argylles on December 22, 2005. Adam helped lead the team to a victory with his defensive skills.

Freshman Jesse Bearden protects the ball off of a rebound against Lapel at a November 26 game. Jesse looked as if he is going to develop into a very important player for the team.

Junior Jeffrey Noland fights for a rebound against Liberty Christian on January 24th. Jeffrey led the Junior Varsity team for a winning season for the 2005-2006 year.

Boys Basketball

On the Road Back

The Panthers had a quite successful season with their record ending at 7-15. By defeating Madison Grant, the Panthers received the Silver Horseshoe, which is the traveling C.I.C trophy. The three seniors on the Panther team were Ryan Landrum, Larry Nutt and Adam Starcher. Ryan Landrum and Larry Nutt were voted for Honorable Mention in Madison County. Ryan Landrum ended his career with 1,182 points and was the fourteenth person at Elwood High School to be in the 1,000 point club. Ryan was also the ninth all-time scorer for the school and the seventh all-time scorer out of of the boys. Adam Starcher led the team each game with an average of eight points. At the end of the season the boys' basketball team celebrated both the exciting season and individual accomplishments.

Junior Damon Hughes puts up a hard shot against Pendleton Heights on January 3rd at the Madison County Tourney. Damon averaged ten points and six rebounds each game.

Senior Ryan Landrum reaches for a high rebound against Madison Grant on December 22, 2005. Ryan helped lead the team to a victory to receive the Silver Horseshoe and the C.I.C trophy.

1. Sophomore Kayla Rider leads the Junior Varsity volleyball team in shaking hands and saying "Good Game" after winning the game against Daleville. Kayla was benched the last half of the season because of a shoulder injury.

2. Junior Melissa Helm helps out the Junior Varsity team in winning over the Lapel Bulldogs at a home game by stretching to the limit to tip the volleyball back over the net without letting them score a point.

Volleyball

Teamwork!

This year the volleyball team had the chance to work with a new coach. Brenda Toney took the honor of coaching the 2005 Elwood High School volleyball team. The girls worked hard and trained for many long, strenuous hours. To help the girls condition for the season, coach Brenda Toney brought in Kasey Peters as an instructor. Many of the girls enjoyed getting in shape and becoming better friends along the way. The team never left without saying some sort of cheer to "pump" them up. The girls were all about teamwork and many of them gained new friends while others reunited with friends they had not talked to in a while. The volleyball team ended their season with a 14-13 record. To help them in achieving this record were the four seniors Kyleigh Jones, Casey Miller, Leslie Cole, and Ashley Box shown at the left. The four seniors took time before the game on Senior Night to get a few pictures with their friends and family so they would have memories of their years together. 7. Senior Ashley Box prepares for a bump to continue the volley. 8. The squad lines up in preparation for the game.

Freshman Paige Hanlin confidently shoots a three-point shot against the Tri-Central Trojans on January 7, 2006. Paige led the JV basketball team by being a co-captain.

Girls Basketball

D-Up

The girls basketball team ended a great season with a record of 19-5. The team had a perfect season in the Central Indiana Conference and defeated the Frankton Eagles 70-49 on January 28, 2006 for the Central Indiana Conference championship title. Seniors Kyleigh Jones and Samantha Melling offered leadership to the underclassmen. Junior Samantha Starcher and senior Kyleigh Jones received the title of All County. Sophomore Shalynn Wright was an Honorable Mention.

"I thought the season could have gone better than it did. We need to work as a team for next year, but I still had a lot of fun. My most memorable moment was Lynzy Stover dancing to the Fireman song," said Abbey Abner. In response, Lynzy Stover commented that "since I knew I wasn't going to get off the bench very much, I decided to be more of a mascot for the team, and I tried to keep everyone laughing. I don't know what it is about the Fireman song, but everytime I hear it my body starts moving, and I don't know how to control myself." On and off the court, the girls had an great season.

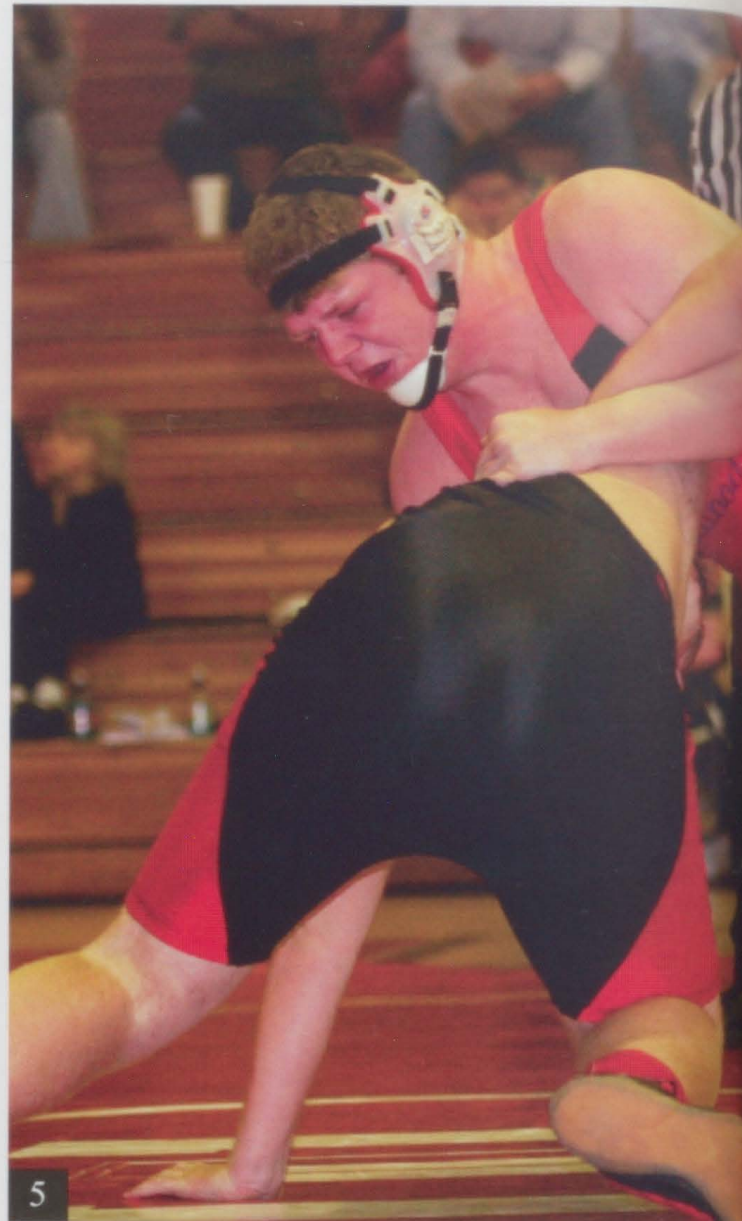

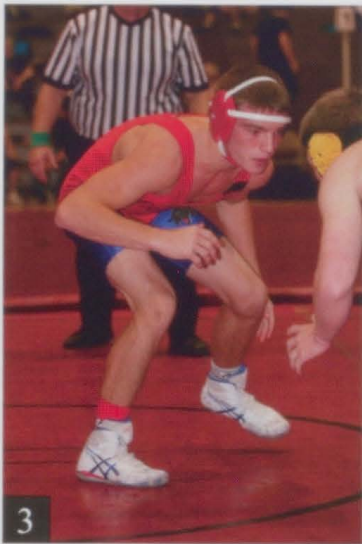

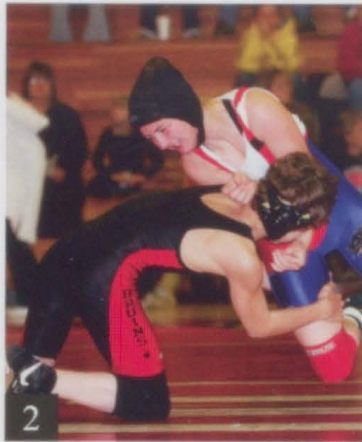

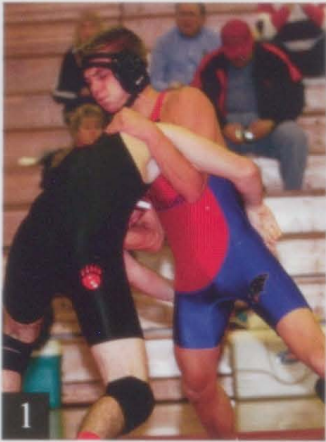

Junior Abbey Abner puts up a shot against the opposing team, the Lapel Bulldogs, on January 11, 2006 while teammate Samantha Starcher waits and follows the shot. Abbey was the leading rebounder and led in blocks each game.

Fans in the stands go wild after the girls basketball team takes the lead from the Pendelton Arabians on January 4, 2006. The fans dressed up in their best Panther attire.

CIC CHAMPS!

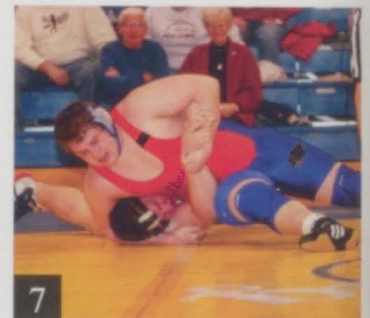

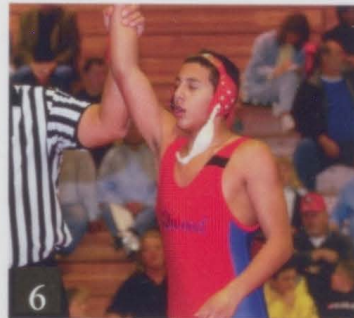

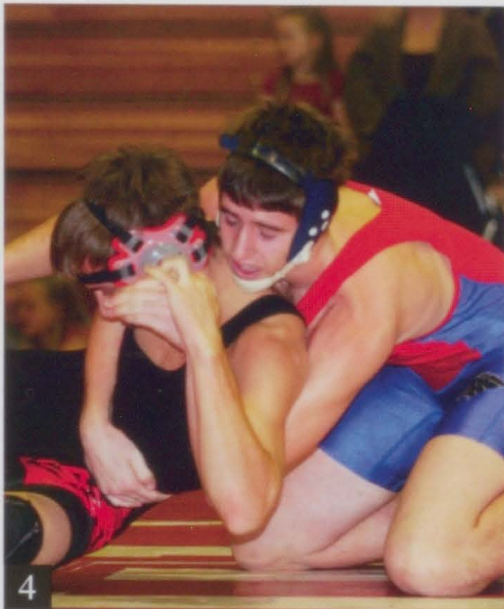

1. Sophomore Tyler Caldwell attempts to beat an opponent from Blackford to help out his team's winning record.

2. Senior Nyoka Walsh, the only girl on the team, works on pinning a Blackford wrestler during the Super 6 tournament.

3. Junior Daniel Kelich begins his match by trying to intimidate his opponent.

4. Sophomore Darren Jones concentrates on winning his match by doing his best to pin the other wrestler.

5. Senior Tyson Loy concentrates on pinning his opponent to improve his record and the team's record.

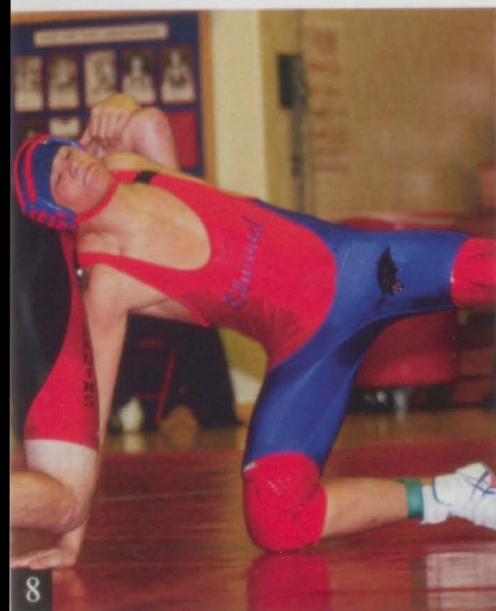

6. Sophomore Victor Cruz celebrates his win after a tough match during the Super 6 tournament.

7. Senior Eric Schwartz pins a Tri-Central wrestler to win his match and help his team win overall.

8. Junior Tyler Hurd defends his amazing record by trying to pin another opponent in a record amount of time.

Wrestling

The wrestling team had an amazing season AGAIN this year. The wrestlers were led by three seniors Tyson Loy, Bruce Minniaer, and Eric Schwartz. The wrestling team finished the season with a record of 21-9. The wrestlers won the Elwood Super Six, Elwood Super Duels, their 18th straight CIC, and were sectional runners-up. This was also Rex Leavitt's last year as head coach. He has led his wrestling teams to many victories during his time as head coach, and this was his 18th straight CIC victory.

Swimming and Diving

Sophomores Samantha Meadows, Mya Mustafa, and Jamie Runyan show their excitement after winning a race against the Blackford Bruins.

During the meet against Tipton, junior Clark Moser takes a deep breath as he pulls himself to the front of the race. Clark was one of the leading swimmers for the Panthers this year.

Freshman Kylie Bixby pulls ahead of her competition in the backstroke and finishes strong. Kylee was a first year swimmer.

Team spirit thrived during the boys and girls swim season. Before every meet, the team would prepare mentally and physically as a unified group for the rigors of facing their opponents. The team was led by four seniors: Caleb Dunnichay, Cameron Holman, Brian Ray, and Stephen Udem. The swimming and diving team completed their season with a 2-11 record. Caleb Dunnichay broke a school record with a score of 391.70 and finished second place at State. Cameron Holman had a brilliant season, breaking several school records in various freestyle and breaststroke races. The 2005-2006 swimming and diving team proved how team spirit can motivate its members toward individual success.

Mentally preparing for his dive, senior Caleb Dunnichay takes a deep breath to help calm himself so he can make sure his dive is perfect. Caleb set a new school record, scoring 391.70 at the meet against Oak Hill, and finished second in state competition this year.

Aiming for her best dive of the season at the meet against the Eastern Comets, junior Ciera Loepke executes a dive that she spent many practices perfecting.

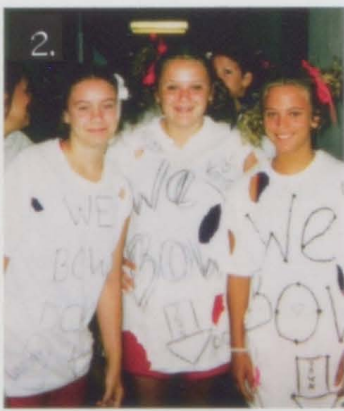

Cheering on their team in the natatorium during a home swim meet, juniors Ciera Loepke, Stephanie Rogers, Erika Neese, Cheryl Smith, sophomore Mya Mustafa, and senior Stephen Underm yell to encourage their fellow team member to take the lead and win a first for the team.

Swimming hard in the freestyle race, senior Cameron Holman came in first place against Oak Hill at the Elwood Community High School natatorium. Cameron set many school records during his high school swimming career. He finished his senior swim season at sectionals, finishing in the top twelve in both the 100 and 200 freestyle races.

3. Seniors Kristin Stiner, Devin York, Kylie Groover, Kylee Lehman, and Darci Leisure take a picture during the last day of cheer camp. This was the first and last year all five girls have cheered together.

4. Cheerfully, senior Kylee Lehman displays her school spirit during the football game against Winchester. As a senior, Kylee provided great leadership.

5. Sophomore Mallory Harris sits with one of her cheerleaders from the kiddie clinic. The cheerleaders hosted a kiddie clinic for grades K-3, and over a hundred girls participated in the clinic. The younger cheerleaders got the opportunity to cheer with the Varsity at a home football game.

Driven to Cheer

Cheerleading

A Year of Cheer

In order to prepare for the year, the cheerleaders attended a cheer camp at Ball State University in July of 2005.

Kalie Creamer, Samantha Starcher, and Kristin Stiner were three of the Elwood cheer squad's members who made the All Star Team at camp.

The competition squad proudly won 2nd place at the Clinton County Fair and 4th place at the State Fair.

Throughout the year, the cheerleaders held four fundraisers, including two car washes, selling cookie dough, and holding a Kiddie Clinic for aspiring cheerleaders.

In order to boost school spirit, the cheerleaders participated in several pep rallies during the school year. Their energy helped encourage many teams to victory.

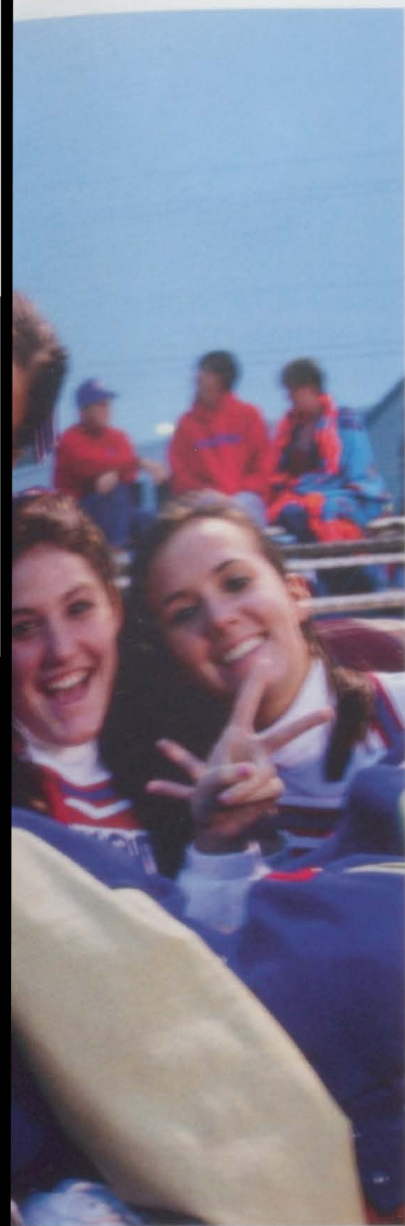

6. The competition squad, which included Mallory Harris, Laura Bohlander, Quincy Kendall, Devin York, Sarah Pine, Kalie Creamer, Meredith Boyland, Kacey Nance, Samantha Starcher, and Melissa Helm, hit their ending pose at their Indiana State Fair competition on August 20, 2005.

7. The girls capture a lasting memory of their fourth place finish in the Indiana State Fair competition during the summer.

PANTHER Softball

Catcher, Lynzy Stover, straps up before going into the last inning against the Tri-Central Trojans. Lynzy, a major asset to the Lady Panthers, hit two homeruns throughout the season and went 5 for 5 in hitting during the semifinal Sectional game against Tipton.

Third baseman, Bethany Stover, rears back to throw for an out at first base. Bethany led the season in doubles, with six for the year.

The Elwood Lady Panthers once again finished with a winning record of twelve wins and ten losses. This year's seniors, Kyleigh Jones, Casey Miller, Leslie Cole, and Kristina Myers, provided wonderful leadership for the team. For the second year in a row, the Lady Panthers made their way to the sectional championship. Even though they ended the season sooner than they hoped, the Lady Panthers are looking forward to coming back next year and taking the sectional champs title.

Kelsey Whitson, a sophomore, slides into home just in time to score a run for Elwood against the Eastbrook Panthers. Kelsey was a major help to the Varsity team this season as well as the Junior Varsity team and tied Bethany Stover in most runs scored with seventeen.

First baseman and pitcher, Rebecca Short, gets ready to come up on a bunt in the last inning of the game against the Tipton Blue Devils. Becky led the team in sacrifices this season with eleven.

What is your most memorable moment?

All four softball seniors decided that their most memorable moment from the season was when Kyliegh Jones pulled her car up to the softball field and Lynzy Stover danced on top of it to "Lean With It Rock With It" and "Fireman."

The Lady Panthers line up for the national anthem on the base line right before the big Elwood-Tipton sectional semi-final game. This was a tradition for the girls before every game. The Panthers beat the Blue Devils ten to five.

Troy Worsley, a sophomore, rounds the bases after one of his homeruns.

"J.V. played as a team, and we won. It was a very exciting season. Because we played as a team, we went undefeated, and Shane Peeler and Cody Summers hit a lot of homeruns."

Ethan Arehart

"We were a very disciplined J.V. team, and we helped each other out on the field. We came together as a 'team' and finished the with a great season. We hope to bring the great teamwork up to varsity next year."

SCORES

Senior Joshua Rider congratulates fellow senior Zachary Nichols after sliding into home plate and scoring a run for the Elwood Panthers.

Baseball

The Elwood Panther baseball team finished with a winning record of 18-10, but fell short of their goals for the season. With a 4-2 CIC record, the Panthers showed sparks of their potential but were eliminated by Jay County in the first round of sectionals. Seniors included Josh Rider, Andrew Stout, Zach Nichols, Ryan Landrum, Derek Worsely, and T.J. Grondin. Andrew provided an admirable offensive attack as did sophomore Troy Worsley, hitting four homeruns in his first varsity season. Andrew proved himself by breaking the school batting average. The boys were disappointed in their season, but did come out with a winning record.

Junior Damon Hughes attempts to beat the ball by sliding into home base at the Elwood-Tri-Central game. The varsity boys beat Tri Central 14-0.

BOYS GOLF

Driven

Senior Austin O'Donnell watches his drive off the tee sail toward the green. Austin was the Boys Golf number one golfer and the only senior on the team.

The Boys Golf team had a rollercoaster ride of a season. Due to many days of rain, several meets were cancelled, but the Panther golfers still celebrated victories and made memories. When asked about the highlight of the 2006 season, several of the boys golfers answered:

"Beating Blackford and Frankton."
- Kevin Galbreath

"Finishing with the best score." - Brian Bush

"When JV and Varsity both won against Blackford." - Blake Courtney

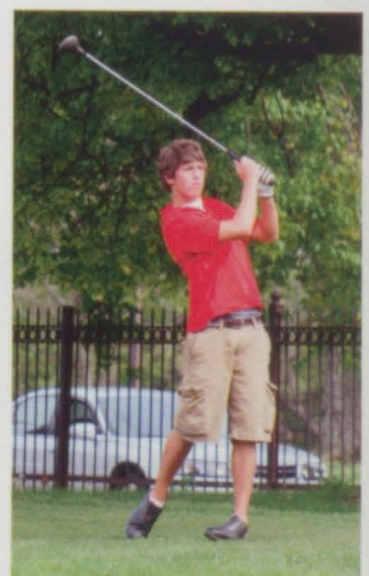

"When I drove it over the green on #4."
- David Hoppenrath

Blake Courtney was one of the sophomores on the team. When asked to describe the season in two words, he answered, "Disturbingly hilarious."

One of the top golfers, sophomore Jacob Bourff helped the Panther team achieve some of their lowest scores. Jacob is expected to help lead the team in the seasons ahead.

Freshman Brian Bush concentrates on the green during a home match against Hamilton Heights. The Panther Golf team won this match by three strokes. Brian described his first season on the high school golf team as "progressive." Coach Kyle Hobbs agreed with Brian, calling the team "promising," and hopes the returning golfers will dedicate time to play and to improve for the 2007 season.

Kevin Galbreath, the lone junior on the golf team, attempts to navigate the bumps and slope of the green to make the putt.

Holding his breath, Devon Shope follows through on his putt.

Sophomore David Hoppennrath sets up to chip the ball onto the green on the Panther's home course.

BOWLING BOWLING BOWLING BOWLING BOWLING BOWLING BOWLING BOWLING

The Girls and Boys Bowling Team played hard this year and had a great season. With so many All-Star players it was hard to keep track. Christy Erdman received seventh place in the State Bowling Competition for the girls and had the highest average pins knocked down this season with 3,363 pins in twenty games. Pictured above, Brian Bush, Tyler Ozenbaugh, Blake Courtney, Kandon Kane, Kevin Kane, Larry Weaver, Curtis Stout, Kevin Galbreath, Jeffrey Parker, and David Savage are holding the trophy they won for the Sectional Championship. This year the boys bowling team captain was Tyler Ozenbaugh, who also led with an average score this season of 4,128 pins in 21 games. The girls team was led by Michelle Henn, who won Sectionals in individuals. This was Elwood's second year in the conference. The final outcome for the boys bowling team was eleven wins and only one loss. The girls record was nine wins and three losses.

Every day, students come to school for a new learning experience. Students are driven by many things, like studying for a test, wanting to do their personal best, being scared of failing, or facing the wrath of their parents if they do fail. Students look forward to many activities during the school year. Every year, Spanish students anticipate their Cinco de Mayo celebration; the Latin students get excited about their day in the food's lab to make pizzas. Advanced Biology students yearn to learn how to dissect an animal. Many clubs are offered at the High School to help students succeed in their classes. There are Academic teams for those students who enjoy either Spell Bowls or the Academic Math and English teams. There are also advanced classes for those who like a challenge. Striving for success, students are driven by learning.

What was your best memory of Academic team?

"The subs were definitely my favorite thing."
- Matthew Helm

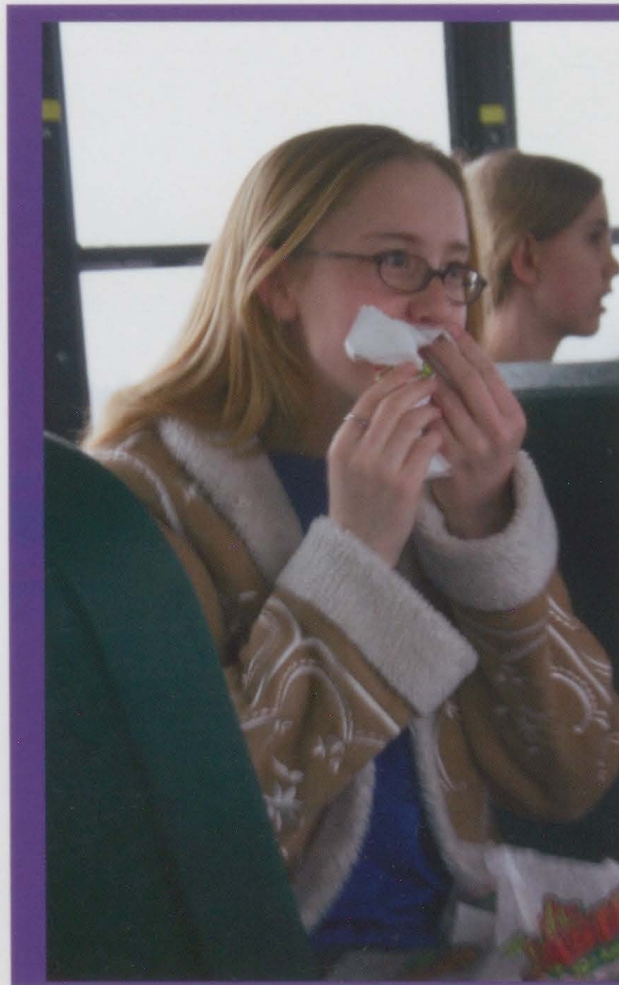

"The subs were awesome, but learning about hyperboles and parabolas really helped me in my Pre-Calc class. I just came for the food mostly. Mrs. Luurtsema always fed us well!"
- Tyler Gobble

"The hot girls on the other teams."
- Josh Caldwell

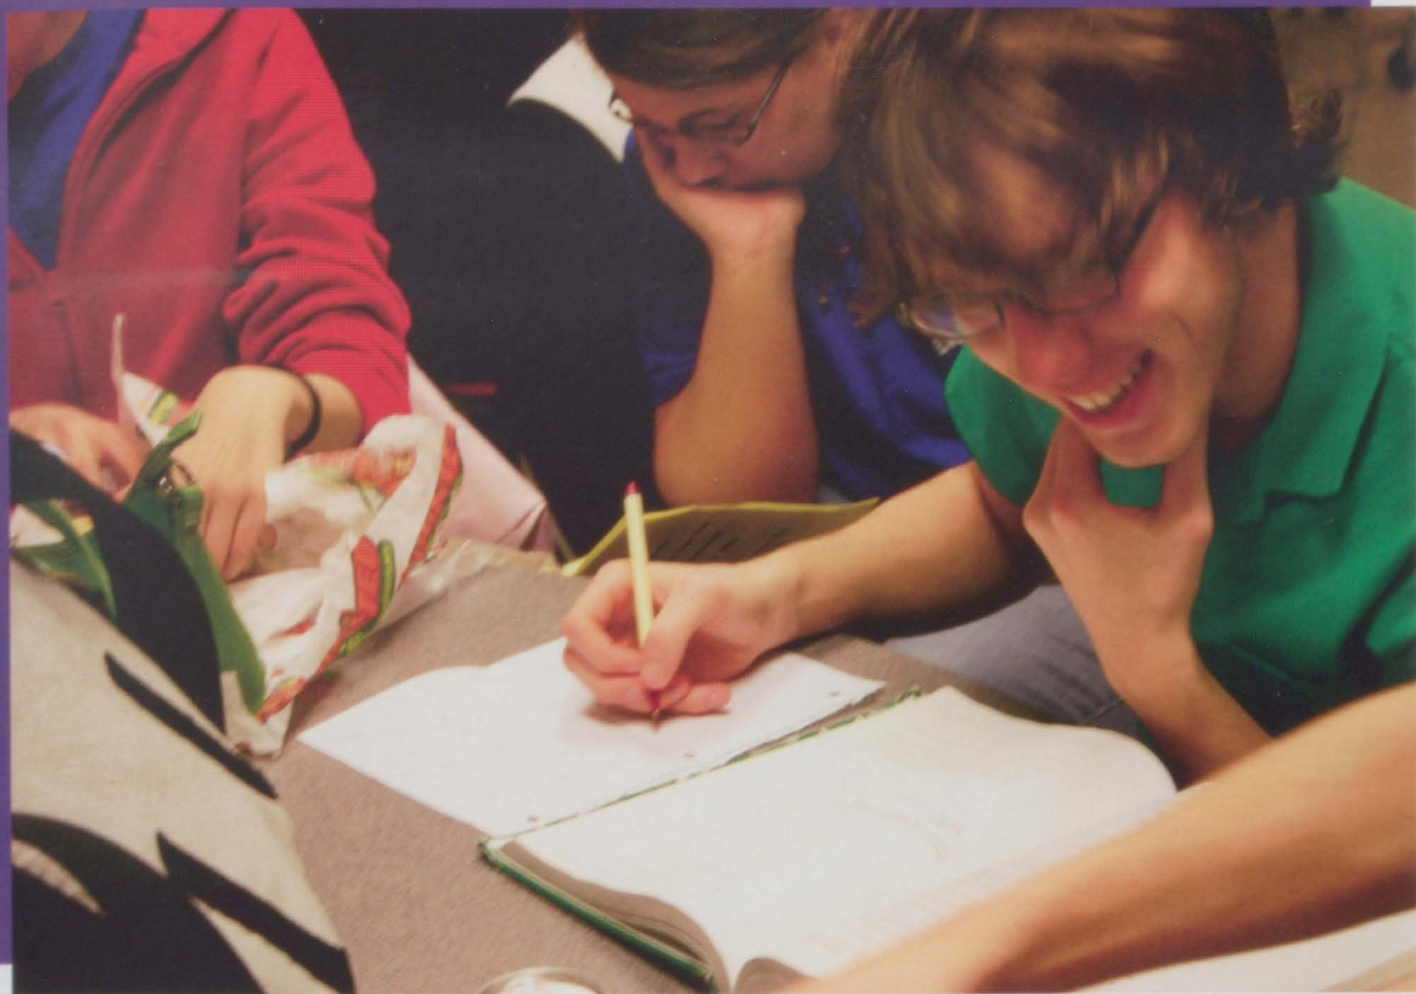

Freshman Elizabeth Price brushes Michelle Henn's hair in attempt to massage Michelle's head and stimulate her brain before the academic meet.

Junior Sherae Stafford, a member of the Science Academic team, quickly fuels up on the bus before a meet to keep her brain alert for those tough questions that are yet to come.

Academic Teams

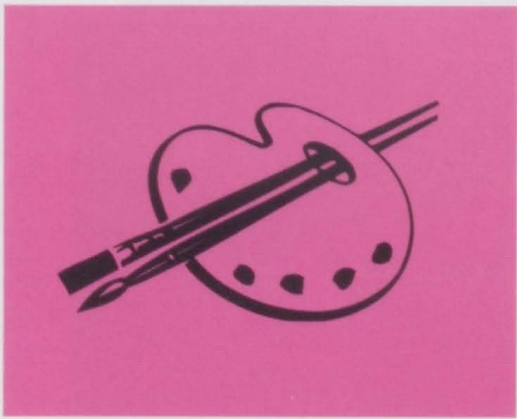

Junior Clark Moser avidly studies his hyperboles and parabolas during an after school math study session. The math academic team met on most Thursdays after school. This is Clark's third year on the academic team.

Each year students across the state of Indiana compete against each other. However, the kind of competition is not physical and does not measure one on their physical strengths, coordination, and skill. Students are challenged to use their brains to compute complicated math equations, remember specific places and dates in history, and comprehend advanced pieces of literature. These students are members of the academic teams. This year Rhonda Luurtsema was the head of all the academic teams. Math, English, Science, Art, and History are offered to students in grades 9 - 12. There is also an interdisciplinary round consisting of all five subjects. The math team placed tenth in state this year out of eighty teams. There were two practice meets and one area meet. The area meet was held at Greenfield Central High School.

Sophomore Laura Bohlander, a member of the English Academic team, absorbs herself in her reading during an academic study session. "This year everything we read and studied was from the Progressive Era," said Laura.

Vernon Bedel shows senior Sarah Shannon how to sculpt her cardboard basket project during second semester 3-D Art class.

Sophomore Robert Benton works on a picture of a hand and flower, an independent portrait during class second semester in his own free time.

Driven by Inspiration

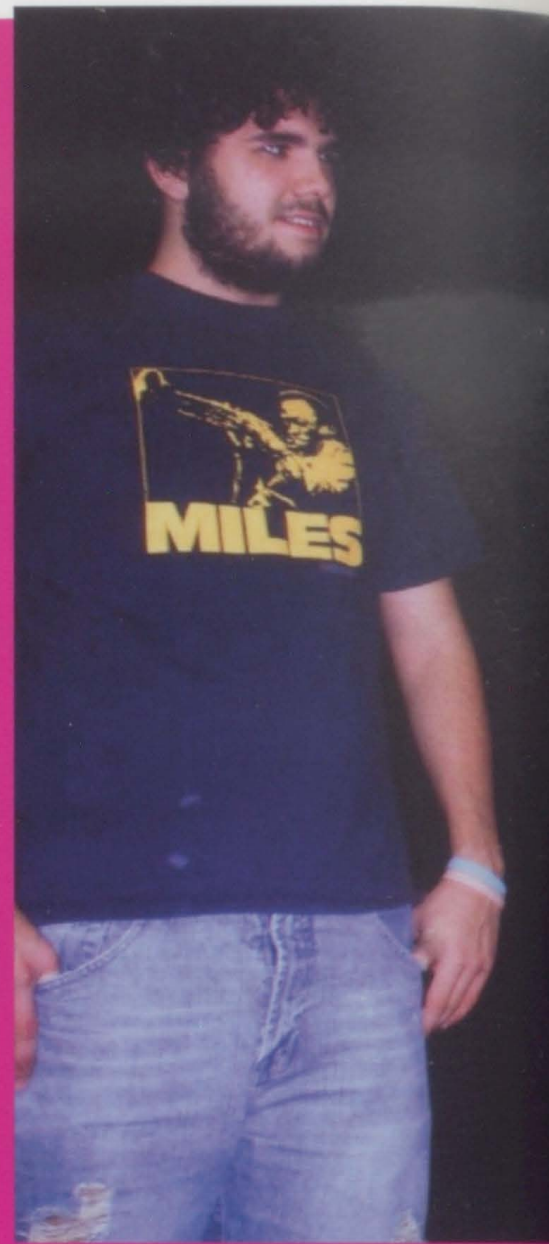

This year the art department and art club participated in numerous events throughout the school and the community. Some of the things that the art club did included a field trip to the Indianapolis Museum of Art and the Indiana Art Center. They sold suckers to raise money for the club's various activities including Alley Cat Café, which is a performance that takes place once a month where students perform and show off their individual talents to fellow classmates. Art class cannot be counted out for having fun though. This year the class did several projects like caricatures, clay form, cardboard baskets, Alley Cat Café posters, song drawings, and batik. Art teacher Vernon Bedel had a little help during second semester from student teacher Heather Piazza.

DRAMA

Who You Callin' A Thespian?

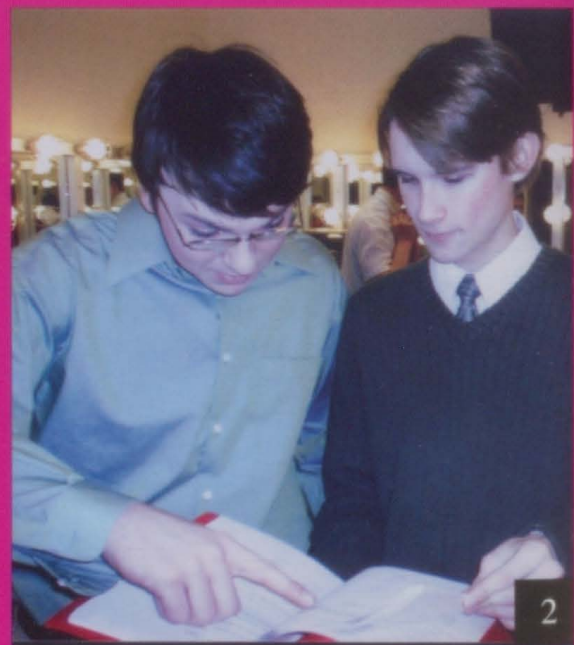

This year the Thespian Club put on three shows and five plays, which were: If Sherlock Homes Were a Woman, Hamlet, Can't Believe It, Ladies of the Mop and Candid. They Performed "Can't Believe It" at Regional at Westfield High School.

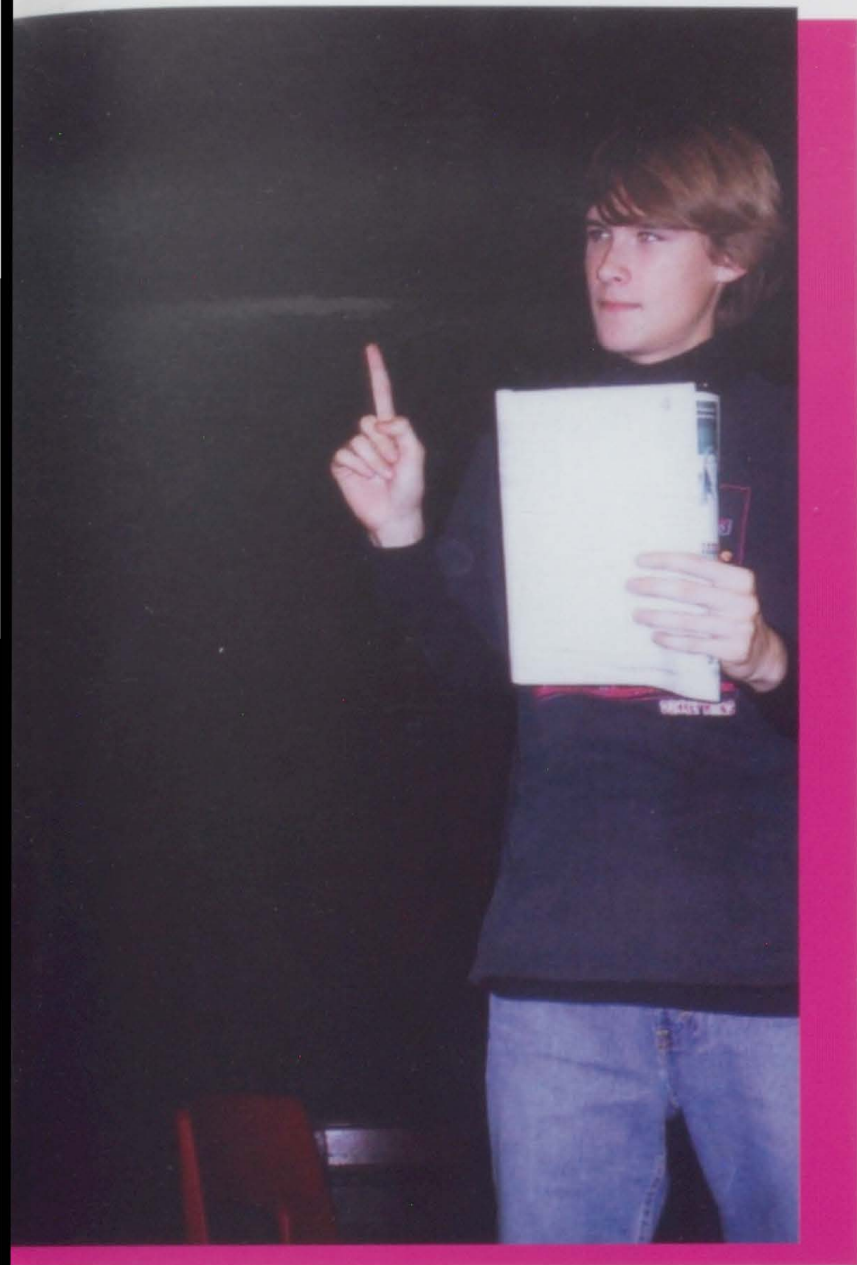

Faren Haas received Student Executive Board member at the State Conference. Jeffrey Pavan won best actor, and the State theme this year was "Swashbucklers of the Stage," which was chosen by the previous Student Executive Board, including Senior Chris Furnish. This year the drama club had two student directors, Jeffrey Pavan, who directed Hamlet, and Michelle Henn, who directed If Sherlock Holmes Were a Women.

1. Kaysha Rittenhouse and Elizabeth Little stop for a quick pose before going on stage to perform their Regionals piece, Can't Believe It, at Westfield High School.

2. Senior Benjamin Wright and freshman Benjamin Rogers go over their lines at the last minute before performing at Regionals.

Jeffrey Pavan and Benjamin Rogers rehearse their lines for Hamlet, which was also directed by Jeffrey Pavan. Both actors played key roles in the production.

Sophomore Kaysha Rittenhouse, senior Ashley Everson, sophomore Elizabeth Little, and senior Michelle Henn freeze for a quick picture as they are dressed for the formal dinner and play at state.

The cast of If Sherlock Holmes Were a Woman included Aleisha Davis, Maggie Cunningham, Elizabeth Little, Aimee Wright, Maggie Jones, Emily Dishman, Michelle Henn, and Kaysha Rittenhouse.

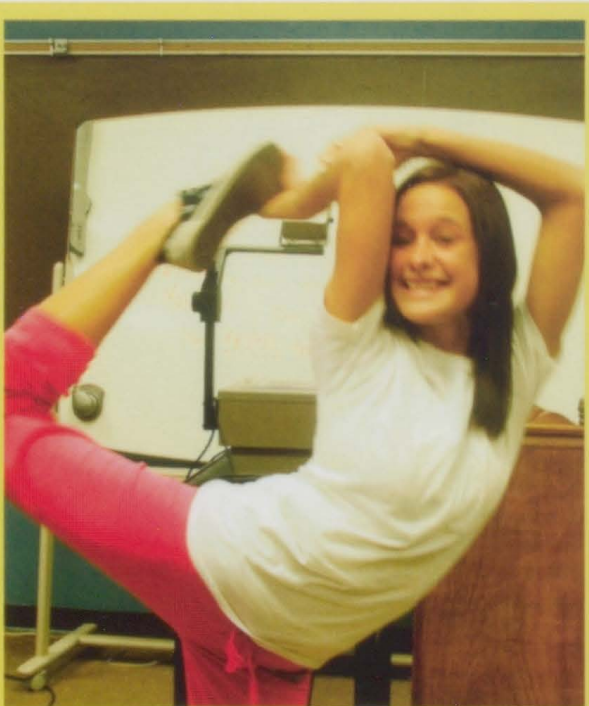

Hamlet Cast: Jeffrey Pavan, Joshua Fowler, Matthew Kennedy, Benjamin Wright, Justin Pavan, Justin Haas, Taylor Leavell, Faren Haas, Benjamin Rogers, Jonathan Pine, Christopher Rush, Logan Etchison, Sara Jones, Shelby Dwiggin, Matthew Spencer, Benjamin Lair, and Kristi Pavan.

During Block 5 speech class, Zachary Hunter had no problem putting humor into every one of his speeches, often using gestures to emphasize his point.

SAY SOMETHING

Showing how much she loves cheering, Melissa Helm finishes her demonstration speech with a cheerleading move called the Scorpion.

Trying to start her speech with confidence, junior Ashley Peace stands at the front of the class, during fifth hour, ready to speak with self-control and not stumble through her speech.

Junior Holly Smith stays focused on what she is taking about and tries not to forget anything she has practiced.

Emphasizing how bad drug abuse is, John Saxton gets hyped up while giving his speech to show everyone how he feels about his topic.

Speech

driven to persuade...

Every junior has to participate in speech class, taught by Sherry Drummond. This year, speech classes covered several types of speeches, including favorite place, informative, persuasive, chalk board, demonstrative, and commercials.

Ask any junior, and he or she will be able to tell you that giving a speech requires many steps. First, the student must pick a topic and research it. This step is the most important because you need to be well-prepared. Next, the student must put the information into an outline. After creating an outline, each student must practice, practice, practice! The final step is to take a deep breath and give a great speech.

WEIGHT TRAINING

DRIVEN BY STRENGTH

Weight Training is a class for Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors. Coach Kyle Hobbs has been the weight training teacher for two years. During this class, students take the time to build up strength and endurance to be able to perform better in their athletics. Students also take the weight training class for the fun of building up their muscles and getting into shape. Daily workouts consist of alternating between upper and lower body muscles like their biceps, triceps, calves, and hamstrings. Students enjoy this class because they are able to spend time with friends while they are working out.

"My favorite part of weight training is benching 225 pounds."

- Tyler Ozenbaugh

Junior Josh Tillery works to get his maximum weight on the bench press to get that body every guy wants.

Junior Tyler Ozenbaugh works on the leg press to help tone his legs. Pressing 275 pounds is not as easy as Tyler makes it look.

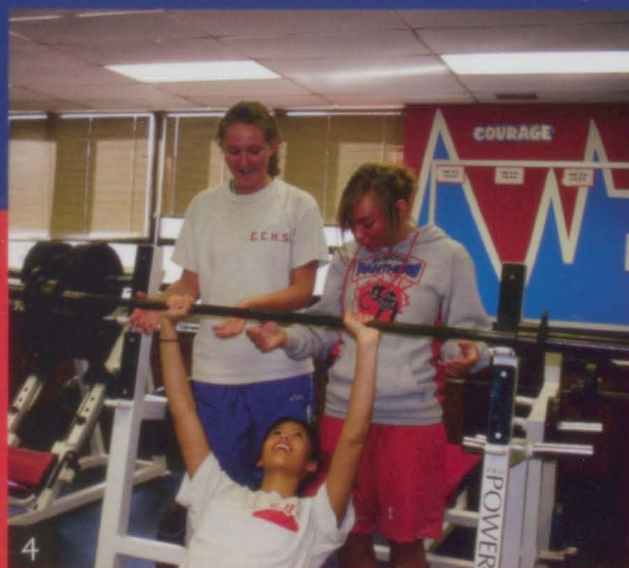

1. Senior Jacob Amos pumps iron on the squat machine during his weight training class.

2. Senior Dakin Beach uses all he has to get his maximum weight on the bench press, while his partner stands behind to spot him.

3. Senior Caleb Dunnichay works out to help keep his body in shape for diving.

4. Sophomore Kelsey Whitson and Junior Michelle Albers help Abby Jesse, a sophomore, lift the bar. It is a good thing all three of the girls were in weight training; it looks like they needed the female support.

EXTREME

Masses of Classes

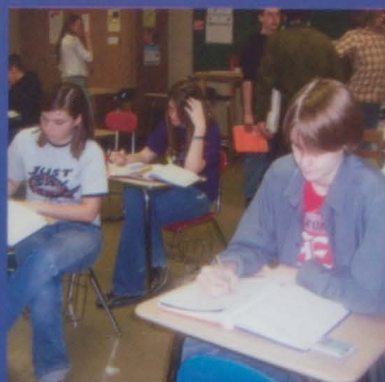

Juniors Crystal Russell and Samantha Starcher look through the latest Megaphone newspaper. Crystal and Samantha were in Sarah Westfall's Megaphone class during Block 3/8.

Juniors Nathaniel Bourff and Joshua Daleure concentrated heavily on a lab in Frank Foster's Physics class. "My favorite times in Physics class is being involved in all of the labs." - Nathaniel Bourff

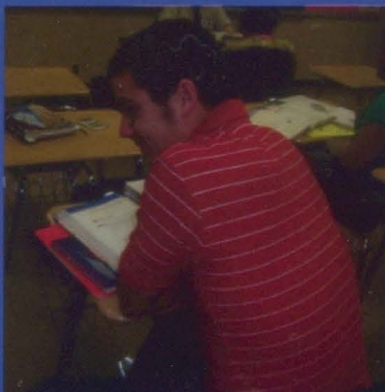

Freshmen Erika Bragg, Jamie Box, Benjamin Rogers, and Chelsea Harvill quietly work on their assignments during their Algebra 1 class, taught by Karen Abel.

Freshmen Summer Phillips and Neil Crockett practice on their square dancing skills during gym class. "Square dancing was fun because I got to learn a different way of dancing." - Summer Phillips

Sophomores Nathaniel Wills and Victor Cruz quickly type their assignments in Max Hoppel's Computer Applications class. "I like to finish my assignments fast so I can have time to play games," says Victor Cruz.

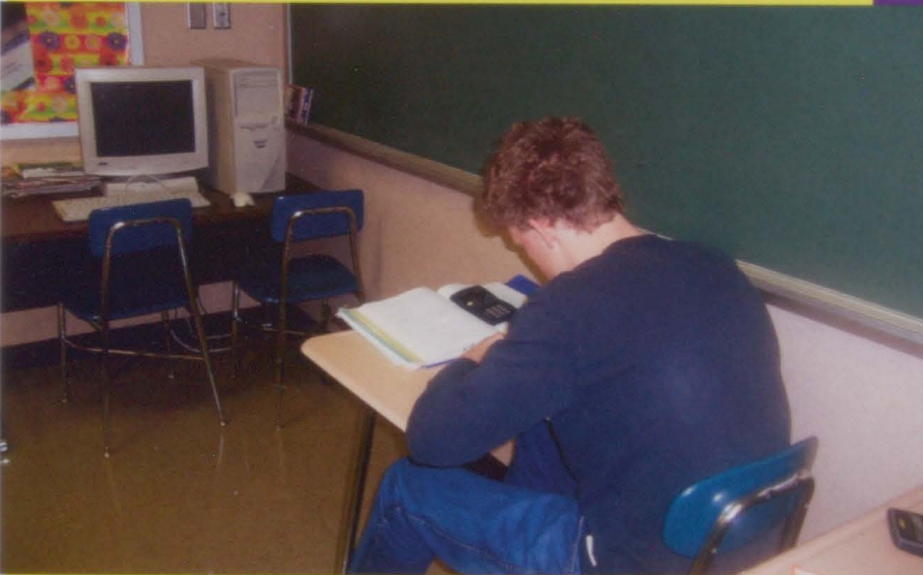

Junior John Saxton patiently waits for Don Garner to assist him on an assignment during his second period Geometry class.

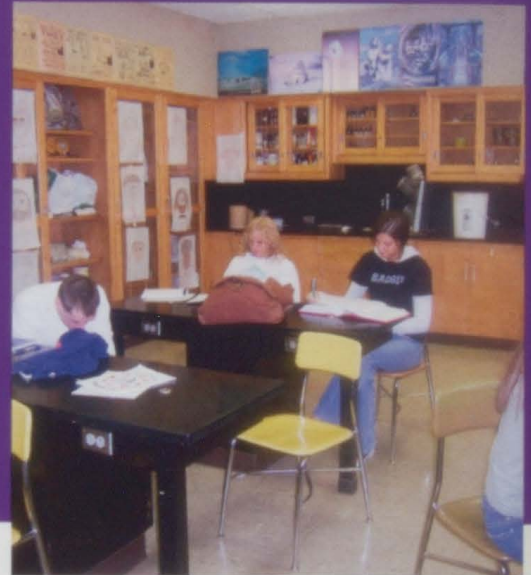

Masses of Classes

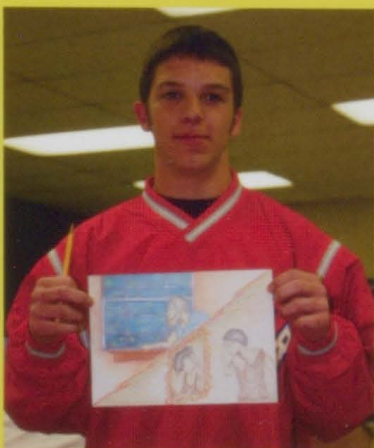

In the mornings, many students sit and socialize in the cafeteria while waiting for the bell to ring before they go to class.

Seniors Lealie Cole and Andrei Bingham are preparing for a win in the mock Presidential campaign for Wendy Riser's Government class.

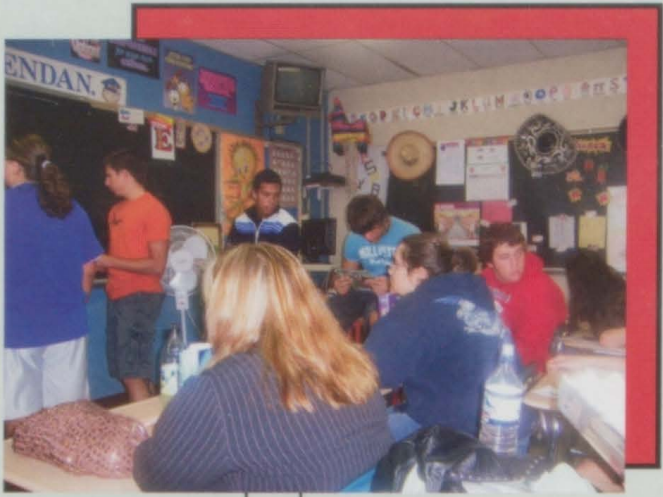

Junior Josh Searcy works on printing shirts in Don Fortner's printing class.

Dedicated fourth year Spanish students watch as Aimee Wright and Austin O'Donnell translate Spanish sentences on the blackboard for their teacher Jane Tracy.

Español Spanish Club

Hola, como estas? Jane Tracy teaches her Spanish students some common Spanish phrases as they anxiously await the bell.

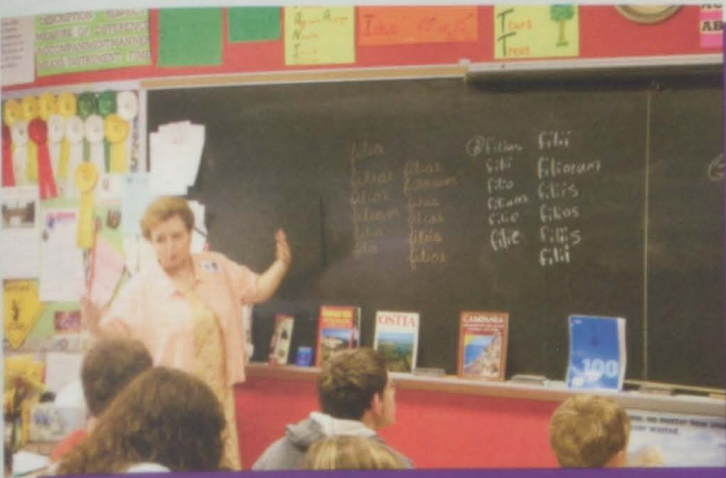

In Spanish club you contribute a lot of your time to charities and helping others. You get to adopt a Christmas family that you send clothes, toys, and food to each year. You can also volunteer at the elementary school carnivals. Spanish teacher Jane Tracey helps out with the canned food drive each year by holding a contest in each individual classroom. About two or three times a year you get to have a "food day," where you make many Spanish foods. You get to eat and have fun the whole hour. There are several memorable moments in Spanish Club. If you just stay focused and have a good time, it all comes easy.

As the end of class gets near, first year Spanish students receive a short lecture from their teacher Jane Tracy.

First year Spanish students listen closely as they get ready to translate and to conjugate verbs at the beginning of class on Monday.

Latin teacher, Diana Garner, makes sure her second hour Latin students know the terms on the black board before a short quiz.

Third year Latin students Tyler Gobble and Clark Moser look stunning for State Convention as they sit back in their togas.

Latin ^{Latina} Club

There are many times in Latin Club when you are proud of what you have accomplished. First year students create a Roman house and wax tablets. Second year students make mosaics. Third and fourth year students make pottery and put together their own Roman jewelry. Then there is State Convention, where everyone dresses and acts like Roman citizens. Also, students get to buy their very own slave at a slave auction. At Christmas time, Latin Club donates to two families and goes around Elwood singing Christmas carols. Latin Club is full of other exciting events throughout the year. Diana Garner always has something up her sleeve, whether it is making up silly songs for you to remember your Latin terms or dancing around the blackboard to make you laugh and learn. Latin Club rarely has a dull moment.

It's Rome's birthday! John Pine, Kaleigh Call, Stephanie Smith, and Kristi Ice enjoy their tasty doughnuts in celebration sixth hour.

Second year staffer Kelsey Plummer works on her swimming and diving page for the February deadline. "At first I thought the pages would be easy, but they get frustrating if you don't know what you're doing."

- Kelsey Plummer

Megaphone Editors Ashley White and Michelle Henn concentrate on writing their stories for the February issue. The editors had to revise each article and make changes before publication.

Jamie Baldwin, a Megaphone photographer, examines his photographs in the February Valentine's Day issue. This was Jamie's second year on the Megaphone staff.

Kaysha Rittenhouse, a yearbook photographer, works on writing a caption for her deadline during February. Before designing the pages, the staff and editors had to practice writing captions.

First year Megaphone staffer Maggie Cunningham patiently works on her article for the December issue of the Megaphone. Maggie was a hard-working and responsible staff member.

Journalism

Keeping You Informed

The Megaphone and Yearbook staffs make up the journalism department. Both Megaphone and Yearbook staffs attended J-Day at Ball State University on April 28. The Megaphone and Yearbook were sponsored by advisors Christine Justice and Sarah Westfall. The Megaphone met four days a week and issued a total of eight newspapers this year. Michelle Henn was the Editor-in-Chief, Ashley White was the Copy Editor, and Thomas Grondin was the Business Manager. Section Editors included Maggie Cunningham, Larry Nutt, Jeffrey Pavan, Cheryl Smith, and Alexys Walters. Photographers were Jamie Baldwin, Samantha Starcher, and Kelsey Whitson. Crystal Russell and Lynzy Stover were reporters. Each Megaphone issue contained Beats, which are updates on Student Clubs and Activities, Senior Spotlights, Sports Highlights, Horoscopes, and Larry's Final Thought. "I like being able to write about things and know that others read what I've written," said Crystal Russell.

The Yearbook staff met every other day and had to meet their monthly deadlines. The Editor-in-Chiefs were Megan Hoel and Casey Miller. The Business Manager was Elizabeth Little. Ashley Box, Ashley Everson, Melissa Helm, Kayla Juday, and Sarah Pine were editors for various sections. The Yearbook photographers were Joshua Caldwell and Kaysha Rittenhouse. The staff also included Meredith Boyland, Danyelle Fernung, Kaitlin Goens, Elizabeth Melton, Kelsey Plummer, Jamie Runyan, and Ryan Small. The Yearbook began sales during the month of September. The staff hung flyers and advertised on t-shirts. "I feel I improved the most on putting pages together because at the beginning I had no idea what I was doing," commented Kayla Juday.

Choir

Once again the Crimson Suite Show Choir and Concert Choir have had an eventful year. The Crimson Suite Show Choir performed for banquets and at the Paramount Theatre in Anderson throughout the Christmas season. Concert Choir performed with them at Arts Garden on December 14, 2005. Under the direction of Paula Simmons, the choirs had the opportunity to once again travel to Indianapolis and perform at Arts Garden where they have a day filled with music, shopping, and the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season. Not only did the Crimson Suite Show Choir perform at Arts Garden, but they also were honored with the chance to perform again at the Paramount Festival of Trees on December 1, 2005 as well as many other local banquets. After the crazy Christmas season, the Crimson Suite Show Choir was asked to perform the National Anthem at center court of the Conseco Fieldhouse for an Indianapolis Pacers game on February 21, 2005. Since the performance was successful, they came back home and performed it once again at a home basketball game. Having little time and a large amount of music to pick from, the choirs ended a great year with the Variety Show performances at the end of the year on May 20 and 21.

3. Paula Simmons directs the Panther Band at their December 4, 2005 Christmas concert. The band also performed at Artegarden during the holiday season.

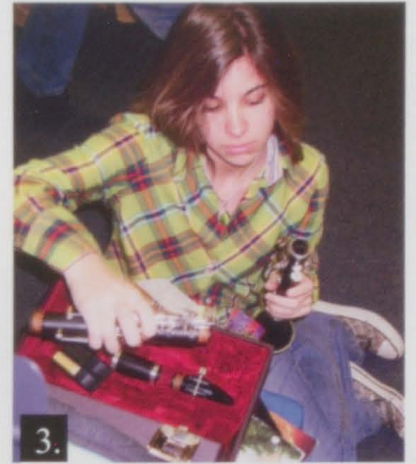

4. Sophomore Terry Corbett is caught on camera taking a quick nap before the band performed at the February 17, 2006 Pacer game.

Band & Guard

driven to perform

The Panther band had a very successful year. Under the direction of Paula Simmons, with assistant Scott Jackson, the Panther band had great leaders. Student leadership included drum majors Matthew Tyner and Kailee Cooper, band captain Megan Hoel, band lieutenant Mat Kennedy, and co-secretaries Kailee Creamer and Sha'la Lewis. Starting out their season in late July, the band attended band camp at Concordia Theological Seminary in Fort Wayne. At camp, they learned many fundamentals to help them throughout the season. Upon returning home, the band got ready for the Glass Festival parade and many other activities before school began. The Panther Band placed third or higher in every contest in which they competed. With a gold rating at District, the band was able to move forward and compete at Regionals at Carmel High School. For the first time in over five years, the Panther band scored high enough to move on, but ended their marching season on a slightly sad note, unable to receive a gold rating at Regionals and dashing their hopes of seeing Miss Simmons go blond. The band members then began to prepare for their concert season. The band performed at the annual Christmas concert held for the community, at the Arts Garden in the Circle Centre Mall in Indianapolis, and on February 21, at Conseco Fieldhouse before a home Pacers game.

During "And All That Jazz" the Crimson Suite Show Choir girls alluringly dance to keep the audience intrigued near the middle of the show.

In front of a full audience, senior Matt Tyner passionately sings an opening solo to "Until We Sing Again," a commissioned piece for Paula Simmons, to show how much he appreciated her over the years.

The Panther Band decided to show off one of their contest pieces near the end of the show and hauntingly play "Ghost Fleet."

The Concert Choir sweetly sang "My Girl, My Guy" at the 2006 Variety Show.

VARIETY SHOW

This year's Variety Show, Soiree of the Heart, had phenomenal performances. This year was music department director, Miss Paula Simmons', 25th year as Variety Show coordinator. Her family surprised her by coming to the show and relaying messages from other family members.

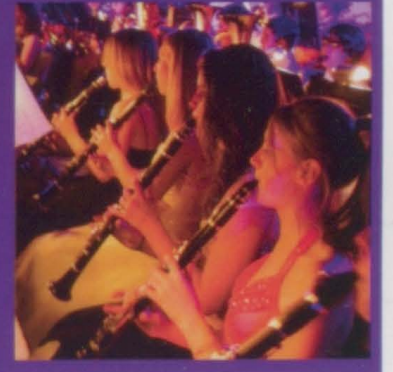

The Panther Band opened the show with "Legend" followed by the Crimson Suite Show Choir with "Celebration." The Panther Guard and Concert Choir soon followed with numbers such as "Yesterday" and "Mississippi Mud."

The solo performances this year were very entertaining. Faren Haas sang "Someone Like You" and Mario Mouser, Mat Kennedy, and Krista Hoose joined their musical talents together to perform selections from Rush. Kaitlin Bohlander and Matt Tyner performed a duet, "Two Lost Souls."

All the music department students joined together to make the finale a spectacular event. The Panther Band played while the Crimson Suite Show Choir opened the finale with "There's No Business Like Show Business." The Concert Choir soon joined them on stage for the final song, "God Bless America," and for the final bow.

For the finale of "God Bless America," all music department students were onstage.

The Concert Choir had wonderful harmonizations during all of their songs. The Concert Choir had two numbers and three combined numbers.

The Panther Guard ended their performance of "Pink Panther" with a striking pose.

The Elwood Jazz Band played "Green Onions" to give the audience a change of pace and genre.

The Panther Band woodwinds played beautifully while flute player Sha'la Lewis soloed during "Ghost Fleet."

Junior Rebecca Short wanders around the library on Tappee Day. All the tappees were blind-folded and taken to the library by the senior NHS members. The tappees were given secret society members at the beginning of the week and had to take a guess at who their senior was during Tap Day.

Senior Kaitlin Goens passes her flame and duties of being Treasurer down to juniors Kevin Galbreath and Cody VanBuskirk.

Senior Thomas Grondin, president of National Honor Society, plays "Sweet Carolina," accompanying senior Krista Hoose while she sings and plays the guitar for the talent portion of the National Honor Society banquet.

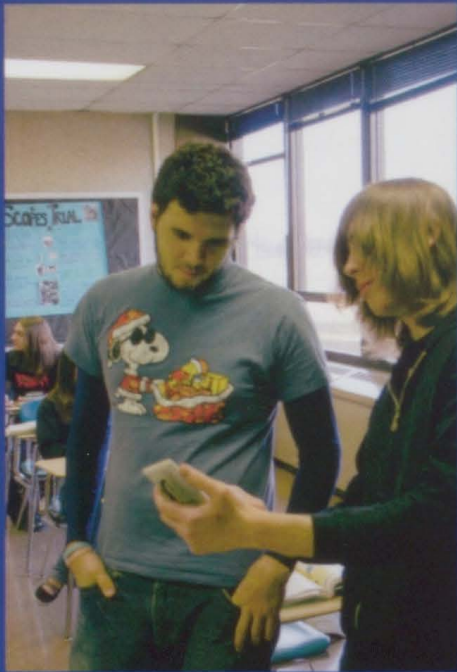

National Honor Society is a privilege for the hardworking students at Elwood Community High School. There are many requirements to become a member of the National Honor Society. A person has to show leadership and drive to perform well in school. Volunteer hours are essential for National Honor Society. Community work aids the students to become well-rounded by experiencing different types of activities in their community. The inductees have to have good character within the school and their community. Also, a 3.5 grade point average or higher has to be maintained for the majority of high school to even be considered. The 2006 induction ceremony inducted twenty-six seniors into National Honor Society. Another twenty-six juniors will be tested into their senior year to see if they can keep up the hard work and be inducted in the year 2007.

driven by competition

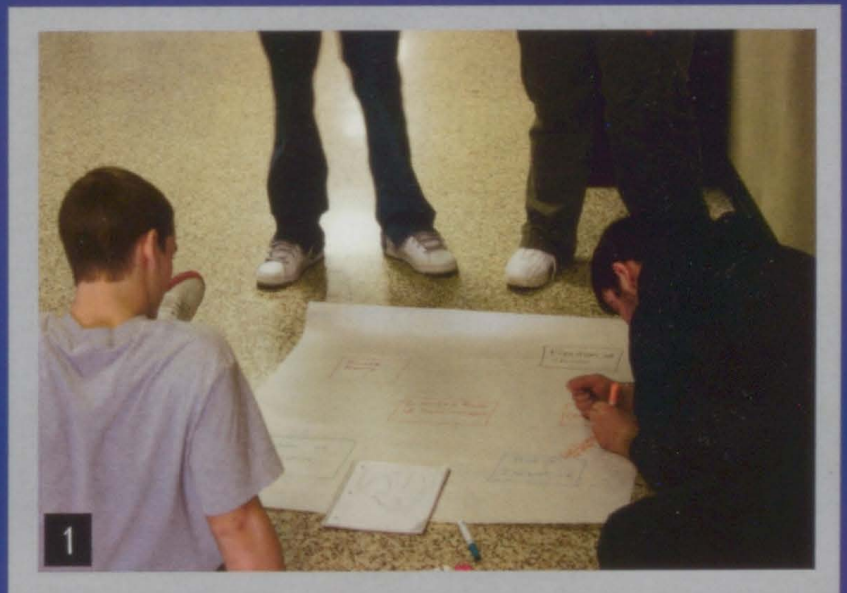

Although Economics is only a one semester class, it is a required class for seniors. Each class designs t-shirts, plans, and sells their products. The classes not only compete with each other, but they also compete with the other class period. Each student learns about how money is spent, trading and bargaining, and demands. The classes also do many projects to help them learn and give them more experience.

1. Christopher Landrum and Zach Frasure work on one of the many posters they did for Mr. Griffin's class.

2. The t-shirts that the Block Six class designed had the Mastercard theme pointing out "priceless" school moments.

3. Block Four's t-shirts had a picture of the old gymnasium's floor with "Elwood High School" written on the front.

CREATING

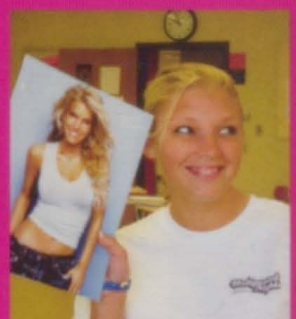

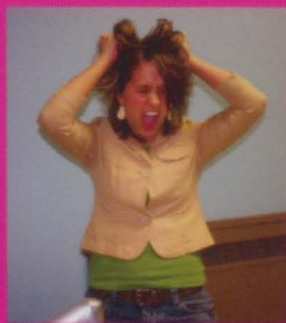

the production

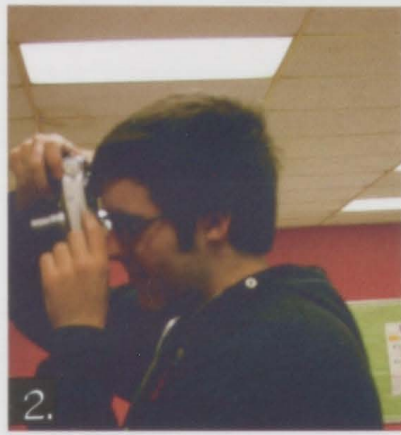

This year was hard and grueling, but the result of the staff's hard work really stands out in this book. Our book started off with Casey and Megan attending Jostens Yearbook Camp in June at Butler University. During camp, they learned what really drives them. That is how we got the theme for our book. Sometimes we are stereotyped as nerds or geeks, but we make the document of memories for all the students and community to enjoy for years to come. Although some days we played games or gossiped about the latest events, we contributed a great amount of time and dedication for a great turn out of the 2005-2006 yearbook. Our hard work is the reason the students of this school will have a book by which to remember their high school years. The staff has grown relatively close this year even through the arguments that sometimes occur in the midst of stress. We were extremely excited for the book to be in all color this year, and we sincerely hope that everyone enjoys it!

Putting this book together was a doozy, but it was also filled with accomplishments, not just for me but for the whole staff. As you can tell our book is in all color. I have to say that this was the biggest thing we accomplished. A special thanks to all of the staffers. We had a few newbies this year, but they caught on rather quickly. Also, a very big thanks to advisor Sarah Westfall for coming in during the middle of the production and for her many hours of dedication and hard work! -Megan Hoel

I want to say thanks to everyone on the staff for working so hard this year on the book. We had a lot of newcomers, and they adapted to the classroom and style of the book very well. A special thanks to our advisor Sarah Westfall for all of her hard work. This was her first year at Elwood, and she did an amazing job keeping us organized! -Casey Miller

You have made us so proud. Keep believing in yourself and your dreams. We know you will reach your goals.
Love - Mom, Dad, and Family

We've enjoyed watching you grow into a beautiful young lady. You make us very proud.
We love you!
Mom and Dad

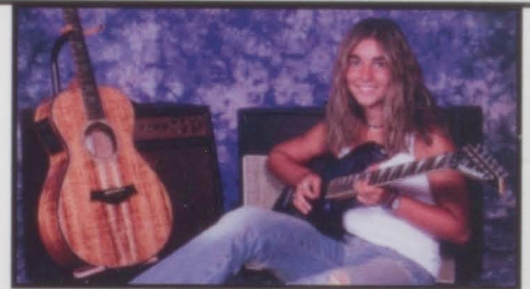

We are proud of your accomplishments, but most of all, so proud of the man that you have become. We love you!
Grandma and Grandpa

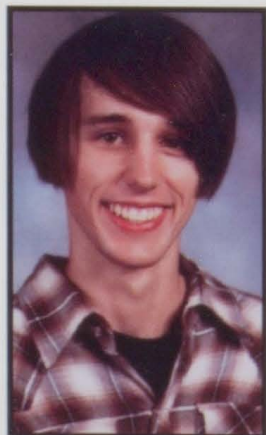

You have been our sunshine. You have made us very proud.
We love you!
Dad, Mom, Allen, Sally, and Kacie

You are my ray of sunshine! I am one lucky mom.
We are all so very proud of you and we love you dearly.
Mom and Dave
Dad and Joby

You have met all the goals you have set for yourself. We know you will always do so.
We're proud.
Love - Mom and Dad
P.S. Keep rockin!

You have been the quiet but perfect son. We are very proud of you. Good luck at Purdue.
We love you!
Mom and Dad

We are so proud of you! Follow your heart and all your dreams will come true.
We love you!
Mom, Pops, and all the family

Casey

Wow! What a roller coaster ride the first 18 years were. You have always made us proud, and we love you very much.
Mom and Dad

Congratulations Michelle. Keep believing in yourself and pursuing your dreams. I'm very proud of you.
Love Always,
Mom

Congratulations! We are very proud of you! We wish you the best of luck in your future.

We love you,
Mom, Dad, Dustin,
Cody, and Sydney

Kristin, you are so beautiful. I got a special deal when God gave me you: a daughter and a best friend for life. I love you!
Mom

We wish Ashley Box the best and good luck at Ball State! We all love you!!!
Your family, Daddy, Joy, Heather, Shannon, & Brandy

May all your dreams come true. We're so proud of you. Look out world! Love you forever
